'Best year ever' as 1,044 take a Christmas day dip in Porthcawl

IN contrast to all the recent gales, the brave swimmers at Porthcawl's 49th Christmas Morning Swim had comparatively calm weather, sunny intervals, lots of Christmas spirit and goodwill for a chilly dip in the Bristol Channel, reports spokesman IAN STROUD.

With the tide almost full in, 1,044 registered swimmers walked and ran down the beach to the sea and took the traditional Christmas morning dip at Sandy Bay Porthcawl, while an estimated 2,000-plus spectators supported them on a very crowded beach.

At 11.45am, Porthcawl Coastguards signalled the start of the parade and cleared a path through the spectators down the beach for the swimmers.

Many were in fancy dress as they walked from the Hi-Tide Inn to the sea.

The procession of swimmers of all ages, male and female, were led from the Hi-Tide Inn to the beach by Victor Davies and Chris Hughes, each with 49 swims to their name.

Spectators cheered and gave their full support to all those taking part in the 49th annual event. Swimmers from all over the UK and overseas took part. Among our regular entrants was veteran swimmer Susan Powell from Caldicot, Monmouthshire, who hasn't missed a 'Swim' since 1978. There were also two visitors from Australia who joined in the festive event.

The swim is a truly family event, with many different generations of the same family taking to the sea and many in fancy dress.

The atmosphere all around the swimmers is very special and hard to explain. I look forward each year to meeting old friends, many of whom I only see perhaps at the swim and we exchange a Christmas greeting, sometimes up to our waist in the sea.

This year as I waded into the sea, just above knee depth, I had a very unusual request, a swimmer asked if I would mind taking a photo of him and his wife and handed me a camera!

Swim chairman, Nicola Willis commented: "Once again, we have been grateful to all who supported our swim and the number of people who turned up was fantastic."

"Collections are made during carol singing and during the swim; we hope the bucket collections and swimmers sponsorship will help us to make some generous donations in the New Year. Our beneficiaries this year will be local charities and organisations."

"As a small committee, we are delighted with the way we have been supported once again this year, I would like to thank all swimmers, spectators, individuals, businesses, fellow 'Buckaneers' and organisations who help in so many ways to make the swim such a successful event in the towns calendar."

"To have such a crowded beach, at this time of the year goes to prove that some of our departed founder swimmers were looking down on us again - and provided us with good weather for a swim that saw more people in the water than most summer bank holidays. This was our best year ever," Nicola added.

Just some of the 1,044 hardy souls who braved the ice-cold temperatures for Porthcawl's 49th Christmas Morning Swim. See more pictures by Glyn Evans on page 4, and a history of the swim on pages 6 and 8.

POLICE CONFIRM BODY ON BEACH WAS LOCAL MAN

POLICE investigating the discovery of a body on the beach at Porthcawl on Friday, December 27, have confirmed it was 24-year-old Mr William Harrison, who lived locally.

Police say Mr Harrison was reported missing that morning.

His death is not being treated as suspicious and the circumstances of his death are being investigated on behalf of HM Coroner. He was last seen wearing a bright red 'Saltrock' hooded top with the 'Saltrock' logo on the front with black jogging bottoms, which had the Guinness logo on the front.

Clothing has not been recovered and police are appealing to anyone who finds items or any personal belongings along the Porthcawl coastline to call 101, quoting reference number 62130404866.

Man (23) must pay £1,000 compensation after attack

THE victim of a street attack which took place outside a Maesteg pub had to receive specialist medical treatment, including microstitches inserted into a lip wound, Cardiff Crown Court has heard.

Shortly after the incident, which was captured on CCTV, Stefan Hnatiuk told the police: "I've got to be honest, I hit someone."

Hnatiuk (23) of Bryntwyn Road, Cymmer, admitted wounding Christopher Williams. He was made subject to a community order for 18 months, involving 100 hours unpaid work and a 8pm to 6am electronically tagged curfew.

He was also ordered to pay his victim £1,000 compensation and a victim surcharge of £100.

Said Judge David Wynn Morgan: "On the night in question, for some reason or another, you reacted wrongly to something said."

"There was no excuse - it was a heavy blow, and the victim has been left with a very unpleasant scar."

The judge said the single blow had not been followed up, and the victim could have struck his head on the pavement. The defendant, he added, had expressed remorse.

He said Hnatiuk had no significant previous convictions.

Prosecutor Julian Greenwood said the attack took place outside the Star pub on June 22, shortly before midnight.

The defendant delivered one blow which left Mr Williams unconscious. So severe was the injury, he had to receive specialist treatment at Morriston Hospital.

The defendant himself was also treated at the Princess of Wales Hospital, Bridgend, for a hand injury.

Later, he claimed he was acting in self defence.

POLICE APPEAL AFTER MAN (54) SUFFERS HEAD INJURY IN ASSAULT

POLICE are appealing for information following an assault on a 54-year-old man at around 10.45pm on Friday, December 13, in John Street, Porthcawl.

The police say the man was assaulted by a group of about four male youths and received a head injury which required hospital treatment.

The suspects were then seen heading along John Street towards the sea front.

Anyone who may have any information concerning the incident is asked to contact Bridgend police station on 101; or anonymously via Crimestoppers on 0800 55511. reference number is 62130391094.

LOOKING BACK ON A YEAR OF HIGHS AND LOWS IN PARLIAMENT

EVERY week, I send out TWIP (This Week in Parliament) to people who have signed up to receive it.

It contains a breakdown of events in the Commons over the week, to give an idea of the range and variety of issues which go through the Commons Chamber and, more recently, events in some select committees. Looking back over this year's TWIPs I thought I would review the highs and lows of 2013.

January's first TWIP set the scene for the year. The first paragraph reads: Responsibility was the theme of two of the key debates in Parliament this week, from work ethic among those on the smallest incomes to tax avoidance among those with the largest.

While legislation to crack down on dubious tax avoidance schemes is yet to arrive in Parliament, the Government is fast tracking the Bill to cut benefits which was first announced in December's autumn statement.

The agenda to modernise public services continued with the announcement that all but the highest risk prisoners would not receive probation services from private organisations.

A debate on the theme of dementia allowed passionate and constructive contributions on how responses to the condition can be improved by health services and by society at large.

The first week of February brought another recurring theme for the year. A debate on the impact of the new Universal Credit benefit in Wales raised concerns that plans were being developed without sufficient planning.

The Government introduced legislation to extend civil marriages to gay people, and allow religions to marry gay people if they so wish.

Then in March, parliamentary time was dedicated to Government plans to instigate the 'bedroom tax'.

This issue has driven many into debt and despair. It is also the subject of more calls for help and support from my case worker, and high numbers of both personal and campaign formatted letters to my office.

We also had an announcement that a deal had been reached to enact a Royal Charter for press regulation to implement the Leveson Report.

The Government also took the rare step of introducing retrospective emergency legislation to address its defeat in the High Court over the legality of unpaid work experience for job seekers.

The Jobseekers (Back to Work Schemes) Bill was one of the few occasions where Parliament has used the back

WESTMINSTER NOTEBOOK

Bridgend MP MADELEINE MOON writes an exclusive report from Westminster for The GEM.

dating of legislation to avoid paying compensation following a court case.

April brought prorogation when Bills are ratified and become law and a short recess before the Queen's Speech on May 8. Any Government Bills that are not passed before prorogation are lost.

Parliament also suffered a spectacular power cut, leaving us with lighting and nothing else, returning the Palace to the days before the invention of the personal computer. Not even the division bells worked.

May was a hectic month as business in the House of Commons concentrated on debating the content of the Queen's Speech.

Somewhat bizarrely, the main issue was not included in the Queen's Speech; a Bill for a referendum on EU membership. EU membership popped up at every turn in debates on health and social care and the cost of living. There was even an amendment tabled by some Conservatives signally regretting that no EU Membership

Bill was included in the Speech. This was defeated.

There was also a statement on extending the length of tour for troops being deployed to Afghanistan from this autumn, as the drawdown of British engagement there began in earnest.

June saw a Bill announced in the Queen's Speech have its first outing in the House of Commons; this time it was the turn of the Pensions Bill. Women especially took to their computers to express anger at the increase in the number of years they would be forced to work before receiving a pension.

There was an urgent question for the Foreign Secretary following the Iranian elections which brought a dramatic reduction in tensions and a long thought impossible opportunity for dialogue with a state it had been feared could tip the world into a third world war.

The main event, however, was the statement from the Prime Minister following the G8 summit, during which Syria featured heavily.

In July, as the House approached the summer recess, history was made with the passing of the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act. One constituent told me I would 'roast in hell' for my support of this Bill.

There was a debate on the Government's plan to opt out of European Union justice and home affairs measures and then opt back in. The Defence Reform Bill proposed passing responsibility for procurement of British defence equipment and platforms to a GO CO, a Government Owner and Contractor Operated third party.

September saw the recall of Parliament with a motion on intervention in Syria that failed to pass. Westminster led the world in demanding time for weapons inspectors to assess who had used chemical weapons in Syria, thus giving time for President Putin to reach an agreement to remove Syria's stockpile of chemical weapons.

There were failures and setbacks exposed over Universal Credit and opposition on all sides to the governments lobbying or 'gagging bill'.

A debate on rising energy bills began a discussion which is ongoing. Royal Mail was also declared ready for privatisation.

October brought the Lobbying Bill into the Chamber and the cull of badgers began in England. These two issues have brought the highest number of emails and letters to my office for the year.

November brought us the Offender Rehabilitation Management Bill and the privatisation of large swathes of Probation Services and a heated debate on the 'bedroom tax' with which we started the year.

The Business and Innovation Select Committee also continued its investigation in the controversial privatisation of Royal Mail and in the Chamber we debated a pause in the move towards a military composed of a 30% reserve force.

Finally, we hit December and the themes of the year continued to play out. There was a Statement on energy, the planned GO CO for defence procurement was abandoned, and the Universal Credit proposal was shown to have wasted over £40 million in computing costs and will not reach almost 1 million people by the planned deadline of 2017.

Appropriately, the year ended with debates on waiting times in A&E and the growing use of food banks.

I hope that you all had a very Happy Christmas and that 2014 will bring a better year for us all. One thing I can promise. Life will never be dull in Westminster – depressing at times, but never dull.

KPC YOUTH 'THANK YOU' TO THE PUBLIC FOR SUPPORTING ITS WORK IN 2013

KPC Youth would like to extend thanks again this year to everyone who has supported us during 2013.

This has been a busy and exciting year for the project with new focused work being undertaken, as well as new fundraising initiatives starting, such as the 'Buy a Brick' campaign.

This campaign is to help raise funds to replace the temporary accommodation we have on site, which is nearing the end of its lifespan, and which due to maintenance issues, needs urgent replacement.

Thanks, as always, go to everyone who has attended our events, bought raffle tickets and Buy a Brick donations, put money into the local collection boxes, donated clothes, toners etc, or postage stamps.

We also thank all our regular monthly supporters, and organisations such as Porthcawl Lions and Rotary Club of Porthcawl who undertake local fundraising events of their own to help charities such as ours.

These are to name a few – but we would like to also thank anyone else who has donated to KPC either through donations or gifts in kind that have been made throughout the year.

The year 2014 sees further challenges for the project with funding uncertainties, and the project is currently continuing to fund part of the provision through reserves that have been built up for times such as these.

Our aim continues to become more of a community facility in the future, and to work not just with young people but with their families and the wider community.

We are currently undertaking some work towards this under the Family First programme with young unemployed, offering accredited training and also help with IT/CVs.

Young people are continuing to "vote with their feet" and during October we had attendance of over 110 on some evenings! This shows the need for our project continues - and we recently celebrated our 15th anniversary of the project which opened on November 28, 1998.

We really want to ensure the continuity of our project for the benefit of our young people and our community.

The public's support has been really appreciated and we would like to extend our best wishes for 2014.

We hope you will continue to support us in the future, and help us continue with our plans.

Council backs nuclear veterans

BRIDGEND County Borough Council

(BCBC) has become the first local authority in Wales to support a campaign to gain recognition for the thousands of ex-servicemen who were exposed to Britain's nuclear tests during the 1950s and 1960s, and the long-lasting health risks that were caused to them and their descendants.

A BCBC spokesman said: "Around 20,000 men were exposed to repeated nuclear tests as British scientists developed atomic and hydrogen bombs, and evidence given by the ex-servicemen has found that they were neither adequately protected, nor made properly aware of the dangers."

"The radioactive fallout of the exposure has been felt by the veterans, with them suffering from increased rates of cancer and rare diseases, while it was also been established that their children are six times more likely to develop cancers and leukaemia, along with unusual skin conditions, and are 10 times at risk of having birth defects, including musculoskeletal problems."

"Last month, the British Nuclear Test Veterans Association (BNTVA) marched on Parliament to present a petition urging Prime Minister David Cameron to recognise the nation's debt of gratitude, and councillors from BCBC have passed a motion in support of the BNTVA's fight for justice."

The BCBC Leader and Armed Forces champion, Coun Mel Nott, said:

"This is one of the untold stories of modern history, but one that needs to be heard. "By passing this motion we are sending a clear and concise message on behalf of the communities we represent that our nation should recognise our debt and obligation to the Atomic Veterans and their families."

Coun David White, Newcastle ward member, said: "The cost in human terms of the testing has never been fully calculated, but it is clear that exposure to the testing created a legacy of long term health problems and which have also been passed on to their children."

"Something needs to be done for these thousands of brave men, who were only ever advised to put their hands over their eyes and turn their backs to the bomb blasts."

"With BCBC taking the lead in passing this motion, I would urge all local authorities in Wales to pass a similar motion and send a clear message that all of Wales is standing side by side with the veterans, and their families, in their fight for justice."

Nigel Heaps, chair of the BNTVA and the son of a veteran said: "This is a monumental occasion for the BNTVA as BCBC has become the first Welsh local authority to pass a motion of support."

"I would like to thank the local councillors for their support, and in particular Coun David White."

Friends of Porthcawl school raise £4,000

THE Friends of St John's School, Porthcawl, recently held their annual Christmas Ball at The Grove Golf Club, where Mr Andrew Thomas of HRT, Cowbridge conducted a highly entertaining auction.

In the same week, the Friends also organised an exciting Christmas Bazaar, transforming the school sports hall into a winter wonderland.

Pupils were thrilled as Father Christmas made his grand entrance flanked by three giant snowmen and the real Rudolph.

Mrs Catherine Perkins (chairperson of the Friends) said that it had been a hard-working week, but there had been some excellent team work, and the wonderful atmosphere at the ball and at the bazaar had made it all worthwhile!

She was also delighted to report that, as a result of these events, the Friends had raised a bumper £4,000 this half term!

Max was there to help celebrate with Business Forum!

MORE than 140 businesses gathered to celebrate their annual achievements at the Bridgend Business Forum's Christmas lunch 2013.

Forum members and honorary guests met at the Coed-y-Mwstwr Hotel in Coychurch, where they were treated to a medley of Christmas songs from four singing sisters, LaSe, followed by Welsh legend, Max Boyce.

Among the dignitaries at the event were Alison Hoy and Ian Jessopp, chair and vice-chair of the Bridgend Business Forum; the Mayor Coun Clive James and his wife, Mayoress Pauline James; chief executive of Bridgend County Borough Council Darren Mephem; and council leader Mel Nott and his wife, Yvonne.

Chair Alison Hoy thanked guests for their support of the Bridgend Business Forum over the past year and highlighted key achievements, including the launch of the first Bridgend Business Forum Awards 2013.

A collection in aid of the mayor's charity appeal fund raised £864 for the nominated charities; Bridgend and District Stroke Association, Heronsbridge School and Gofal (thinking differently about mental health and wellbeing).

The event was sponsored by Bridgend Business Forum members, Apollo Teaching Services, Handelsbanken, United Graphic Design and kksolutions.

Leader Mel Nott said: "I know that considerable time and effort goes into the planning and delivery of this event. I am very proud of the council staff involved in making it such a success. Each year, the bar is raised another notch.

"This event is very well placed to continue to strengthen the excellent links which have already been established between the council and the private sector in Bridgend county borough through the work of the Bridgend Business Forum."

For further information on the Bridgend Business Forum, visit www.bridgendbusinessforum.co.uk.

Rotarians' praise for Youth Speaks' strong 'arguments'

BRIDGEND Rotary Club held its annual Senior Youth Speaks Competition recently, which was hosted by Bryntirion Comprehensive School.

All students who took part were praised for their skills in addressing and engaging their audience.

It was a very successful evening supported by teachers, family, friends and Rotarians. Topics discussed included ideas such as 'Gender Inequality - a Major Problem in the Workplace'.

The winning team on the night was Brynteg Comprehensive School who discussed the topic that 'The Driving Age should most definitely NOT be increased to 18'.

A very convincing argument was delivered by Connor Lomax. Thomas Prosser acted as Chairperson and Rebekah Lee proposed the Vote of Thanks.

Sophie Keegan won the prize for the best Chairperson on the night and Laura Thomas was awarded a prize for the best Proposer of the Vote of Thanks. Both of these students represented Bryntirion Comprehensive School.

Bridgend Rotary Club president, Allan Brooks presented the prize to the winner of the competition.

BRIDGEND HEALTH ASSISTANT'S NICE CHRISTMAS BONUS

CHRISTMAS came early for one Bridgend health care assistant – thanks to Wales' largest building society.

After entering a survey at Principality's 53 branches in Wales, asked participants about the most important things in their life.

The competition, which was offered to customers across all of Principality's 53 branches in Wales, asked participants about the most important things in their life.

Elaine, who works at the Princess of Wales Hospital, Bridgend, and has two children Nick (20) and Emily (15) was astounded when her local Principality branch manager rang to break the good news that she had won.

She said: "I just couldn't believe it. I filled in the survey while I was in the branch, but I never thought that I would win.

"My freezer actually broke just after I won the money, so it has come in very handy and I had a lovely new freezer in time for Christmas."

Quiz helps Mayor's charity fund

THE Mayor of Maesteg's charity fund received a huge boost just before Christmas from the Garth Inn, in Garth, Maesteg.

The landlord and landlady, Colin and Karen, together with the members of the quiz team, made a fabulous contribution to the fund of £500, which they had collected from the weekly quiz.

Over the years, they have raised a huge amount of money for charitable causes in the town, and they deserve a massive vote of thanks.

Players' moving Armistice production

BRIDGEND Castle Players performed their Armistice production at Bridgend United Services Club, in aid of 'Help for Heroes' and the Royal Legion Poppy Appeal.

The evening consisted of two parts: James Wilson read a family letter, sent to his grandmother by a friend of his grandfather's, from the front in World War I. This was the first time it had been read in public, and James Wilson was thanked for sharing this personal letter.

The second part of the evening was a performance of The Prisoner's Friend by Peter Drake – a tale about the everyday lives and trials of the soldiers in the trenches of the Great War.

Martin Smidman conveyed the realities of the conflict superbly and the audience enjoyed singing along to songs from the period, during interludes in the play.

FESTIVE END TO THE YEAR!

NEWTON WI had a busy December and the Christmas fayre was very successful, with cakes and crafts doing well.

We have also had choir practice with Margret, who got us all singing in tune for our WI carol concert in St Davids Hall. This was where all the WI choirs joined up with Only Men Aloud – the only problem being there were only eight of them so not enough for one each!

Next we had our own carol concert where Rev. Colin Richards told the story of Christmas and had us singing familiar carols. We also had our Christmas party with a wonderful spread made by the committee. Mike Boyce then gave us Christmas songs ranging from Elvis to carols!

We would like to wish everyone a very happy new year from Newton WI. Our next meeting is on January 8 and new members are welcome.

EITHER side of Christmas Day, the weather was miserable, but Porthcawl's Christmas swim was blessed this year – as on many previous occasions – with clear skies and bright sunshine!

The water? It was still freezing cold!

BOXING DAY RESCUE BY PORTHCAWL LIFEBOAT

RIGHT:
RNLI volunteers were keeping swimmers safe at Porthcawl's Christmas swim.

RNLI volunteers in Porthcawl had to answer a call of duty on Boxing Day, after a yacht's engines failed as it approached Porthcawl's new marina.

The Atlantic 85 lifeboat was called out at 12.25pm after the yacht, which had left Monkstone Marina on the River Neath, and had travelled safely through a moderate to rough sea, hit trouble.

The RNLI crew were able to secure the yacht on a mooring buoy within the shelter of Porthcawl breakwater but outside the marina.

With a falling tide and storms forecast for the following day, it was vital that the yacht was found a safe haven.

Porthcawl RNLI lifeboat manager Philip Missen MBE saw the situation first hand. He said: "Once it was established the yacht had no power to make its own way into the marina, I considered the alternatives.

"First was a tow into the marina but that is not fully operational yet; or there was the other option of towing back to Monkstone – and this would have been very rough and difficult for both crews.

"We were lucky that a member of the harbour master staff was on duty and, following several attempts, was able to open the gates at the mouth of the new marina."

The helmsman on the lifeboat, Chris Missen, said: "With the yacht only about 100 metres from our slipway, we were able to establish a tow within a few minutes.

"Once safely in the marina, the yacht was moored alongside a pontoon. This was our first experience of towing a vessel into the new marina and I'm sure it won't be our last. Thankfully, this was a relatively easy recovery and we were happy that the vessel was moored safely, considering the forecast and the sea conditions over the festive period."

Porthcawl volunteer RNLI crew had a very busy Christmas day, too, as eight volunteers, led by helmsman Chris Missen, were on duty at Porthcawl Christmas swim providing safety cover.

That was the year that was!

FOLLOWING their three nights at St Mary's on Ewenny Road, the Bridgend Male Choir was delighted to have been invited to sing at a Christmas service of Remembrance in St Crallo's Chapel, C o y c h u r c h Crematorium.

To a full congregation, the sensitive choice of appropriate content and season's items were well received, as were the mince pies afterwards!

Next up was a visit to the High Corner Inn at Llanharan, where the choir was also returning for a second year, as well as the numerous visits returning from engagements. Singing carols to a packed house, the atmosphere was superb with wonderful female voices accompanying.

It was little surprise to learn that enjoying their Christmas dinners were lady choristers from Tonyrefail and Pencoed, many of whom joined in.

With the year drawing to a close, the chorally busy month of December was concluded with a wedding at St Mary's Parish Church, Coity, and an outing for the Singing Santas!

The latter is an annual occasion when a number of choristers dressed in Santa costumes sing in support of their Rotary Club of Bridgend friends. Visits to a number of hotels and restaurants are an opportunity for hard working Rotarians to collect for local charities – and now a well-earned rest.

All that's left is to wish all connected with choirs, rotary clubs, other charity fund-raisers and their thousands of supporters every good wish for a prosperous and in-tune new year!

Christmas day swim history reveals competitive tales...

ABOVE: Vic Davies (with knee bandage) and Chris Hughes (black speedos), who have taken part in more Christmas swims than anyone else, have the honour of leading the swimmers into the sea.

The Mayor and Mayoress of Porthcawl, Couns Mike and Norah Clarke, with the Royal British Legion swimmers.

by CAROLINE SARLL

FORGET braising the brussels and basting the bird.

For the last 49 years, Christmas Day in Porthcawl, for many robust residents, has been defined by something rather less seasonal: the annual Christmas Day Swim.

It is the third longest-running Christmas Swim in the UK, beaten only by Hunstanton in Norfolk and the Peter Pan Swim in Hyde Park's Serpentine, (which marks its 150th anniversary next year).

In Porthcawl, a record number of daring dippers braved a pre-prandial plunge last week and the organisers are hoping that this will lead to an all-time record number at the big 50th anniversary next year.

Its history is replete with anecdotes, tall stories and classic Welsh humour, in the vein of a Dylan Thomas or Rhys Davies short story. There is a reluctant donkey, a clown, much Vaseline and some regular fishnet tights, all mixed in with "a slap of sea and a tickle of sand". It is seaside life at its very best.

The event was started in 1964 by veteran swimmers, the late Arlon Owens and 85-year-old retired businessman and shop owner Jack Bridge. Arlon, who owned the once thriving Sospan Fach cafe in John Street, was renowned for swimming every day of the year. Sadly, he died at Rest Bay on the sands, following one of his daily swims.

His son Gareth, is carrying on the family tradition and continues to don the Coco the Clown costume his father wore each year, in true maverick style.

Jack, now 85, had to give up quite a few years ago due to bronchitis, but he never misses a year as a spectator and has fond memories of how the festivities began:

He said: "As members of the Chamber of Trade, we were always thinking of ideas to publicise Porthcawl and it was Arlon's idea to take to the sea, a scheme hatched initially while chatting outside Woolies, then developed into the small hours – probably over a pint or two.

"On the day of the very first swim in '64, Arlon, dressed as Coco the Clown, and I as Father Christmas, were towed in a boat by my brother's car, down to the Pier. But we hadn't quite got the hang of pre-publicity back then. When we got there, there wasn't a soul in sight!

"Not daunted though, we spotted some people at Coney Beach, so we took the mountain to Mohammed, as it were, and they threw us both in from there. Soon we had Vic Davies, Lindsay Morgan and David Thomas on board, all keen members of the Lifeguards.

"Never did we think we would end up with the thousands who turn up now, or that we would raise quite so much money for so many local causes.

"What was really funny was the local kids' reaction, when I finally emerged from the water, totally bedraggled and obviously sopping wet in my full Santa regalia. 'Hello Mr. Bridge!' they all shouted. Out of the mouths of babes, no less. My cover was completely blown".

Ken James, at 87, has decided to hand over his title of 'oldest swimmer' and will be auctioning his collection of commemorative mugs for charity!

The occasion now attracts over 1,000 swimmers – from the very young (veteran Chris Hughes took his baby grand-daughter in last year), to the very old, 87-year-old Ken James, from Ogmere Vale, who only stopped swimming two years ago after his wife died and still swims 64 lengths in the Ynysawdre Pool every morning.

He said: "I've always loved swimming and taught myself as a child in the river in Nantymoel. As I got older, I started swimming regularly in Porthcawl all through the summer and into October.

"When I heard about the Christmas Day swim, I knew I had no option! I didn't miss a year between 1980 and 2011. My wife Barbara held the towel on the sands and I'd go in, dive straight under the waves and always manage to do a good few strokes.

"I never dressed up. Just my bathers. And no, nothing like Rudolph on them! My wife always had hot soup ready with the towel and after a quick rub down, we'd hop in the car and I'd drive down to Portsmouth to have Christmas lunch with my daughter".

Ken was joined annually by the longest-serving swimmer of all, the aforementioned "almost 80-year-old" Vic Davies. Vic, a widower, who still cuts a dashing figure in his swimming briefs, has never missed a year and, according to Ken, is probably secretly glad that he is now officially the oldest swimmer.

"He used to get annoyed when he thought I wasn't coming and then turned up late, thinking he had the oldest veteran crown for that year" recalls Ken wryly. "But it was all in good humour. Everyone gets on with everyone else and there is always such a fabulous atmosphere".

Vic, a former Porthcawl Lifeguard with a winsome twinkle in his eye ("They call me the local lothario!") has his own methods for surviving the potentially numbing North Sea: "I put a bit of Vaseline on the 'sticky out bits'!" he jokes.

"I also go to Tenerife every year for two weeks before the swim, paid for by my children, to get an all over tan. I look much better then on Christmas Day. I've had two hip ops and one knee done – and when I've had my second knee op, the ladies on Coney Beach had better look out!"

Sensing an ongoing rivalry between these two elder statesmen, Ken tells me that Vic is more liberal with the Vaseline than he's letting on: "I think he rubs it all over his body, to make him nice and shiny, and to distract from the bit of a tummy he's getting! Me, a tummy? No, not at all". Baywatch could have done with both their phone numbers.

Others have a more ambivalent attitude towards the event. Wendy Richards, Arlon's daughter, recalls being dragged out of bed every Christmas Day to "go and stand shivering on Coney Beach while my father pranced around in his Coco the Clown outfit and plunged into the sea.

"You can imagine it, can't you? A truculent teenager, arms folded, just wanting to be in bed – and wanting to have her Christmas presents and Christmas dinner before 5pm! There are quite a few pictures of me looking like that. I had a right face on me".

A JOYOUS END TO THE TERM FOR PENCOED COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL

AS reported previously, everyone at Pencoed Comprehensive School is delighted with the recent news at being placed in 'Band Two' in the Welsh Government's banding scheme.

The end of term ended on some other very high notes as well. Pupils in years-8 and 9 enjoyed the 'Big Sing' organised by Mr Owen and Mr Poley, in the school's sportshall.

Also, a very successful Christmas concert was held in Salem Chapel again this year. Thank you very much to Mrs Rhian Jenkins, Miss Rebecca Lewis, Mrs Kay Smith and all the pupils who took part.

The audience enjoyed a whole variety of items, all performed with great enthusiasm by the pupils. Pupils also laid on a special concert in the afternoon for the school's Senior Citizens' Club and the Llanharan OAP Club. Before going over to Salem, the senior citizens joined in the carol singing in the canteen led by Mr David George, Mrs Ruth Jones and Mrs Christine Lacey.

We're very grateful to Salem Chapel for allowing us the use of the chapel for the concert and the rehearsals. Thank you to everyone for their kind donations towards school activities as collected by FoPCC who provided refreshments in Salem.

Congratulations are in order for a variety of people for a variety of reasons! These include: Mrs Samantha Evans, Assistant Head, on her appointment as Deputy Head, starting in her new role from January 2014; all the year-12 pupils and staff who supported them in the organisation of the Christmas Fayre in the school's sportshall. The fayre included different types of cake and refreshments as well as various competitions.

The fayre forms part of the pupils' Welsh Baccalaureate, contributing to the community participation and working with others sections. The total amount raised this year was £1,420 and the charity to benefit will be 'Cymorth i Cerys' as part of Bobath (Children's Therapy Centre Wales). We're very grateful to Waterstone Homes and The Co-operative for the very handsome hampers they donated.

Pupils in the MLD Resource base also had a stall selling sweets (kindly donated by Cutlers Sweets), with their sales also going towards 'Cymorth i Cerys'.

Members of the school's INTERACT Group have sold a large number of very endearing wooden reindeers as produced by Edgar Birt, their mentor from Bridgend Rotary Club.

The INTERACT Group has also been busy collecting boxes for Operation Christmas Child and entertaining residents at Glanffwrdd Nursing Home in Pencoed.

The following pupils were elected as school council members:

year-7 - Hollie Carmody, Sophie Sage, Evan Jones;

year-8 - Rosie Pope, Josh Midlane, Matthew McPhillips;

year-9 - Jessica Phillips, Ellis Brown, Jenna Dyckoff

year-10 - Grace Shaughnessy, Liam Hiatt; year-11 - Aaron Leyshon, Megan Fry;

year-12 - Harri Legg-Edwards, Caitlin Jenkins (also Pupil Governors); year-13 - Cherish Bevan and Tom Hiscocks.

All the pupils competed in the Winter Sports Day at the end of term - Llywelyn and Gwennllian Houses tied for first, with Owain and Branwen Houses tying for third.

All pupils who have achieved the attendance target of 97 per cent figure this term are in the Green Zone. Pupils in BMA, OSP and 7ML topped the Premiership for the first half term and enjoyed their bacon butties! Congratulations go to Cerys Dyke, Lily Evans, Saffron Foster, Caitlin Jenkins, Taylor Johnson, Harry Lock, Meryl Maunder, Connor Rees, Paige Reeves, Nicola Thomas, Sian Thomas and Ben Warman!

They all achieved bronze on their Duke of Edinburgh Award and celebrated in style at the Celebration Ball. All looked fabulous and after the presentation enjoyed dancing the night away with some spectacular moves!

All those who in the space of two hours raised nearly £1,500 for Children in Need in November. Not all activities were as painful as the leg waxing suffered by Mr Owen and Mr Poley!

Well done to the Year-7 pupils who took part in the school 'Readathon' this year. They managed to raise £346.30. A special congratulation to Megan Jenkins who read six books and raised £106.00 for the event. A wonderful achievement!

The money collected has been donated to three charities:

'CLIC Sargent', a charity that provides vital support to children and young people with cancer, 'Roald Dahl's Marvellous Children's Charity' for seriously ill and disabled children and 'Readwell' providing books and storytellers to children in hospital.

Congratulations to both kitchens on achieving five star rating in the National Food Hygiene Scheme. The rating is proof of the constant hard work put in by all members of the kitchen staff in maintaining a healthy and clean environment for the variety of meals served throughout the year.

MLD Resource Base News
AS well as being busy with their work in class and helping out with the Christmas fayre, pupils and staff at the MLD Resource Base have been busy again this term hosting coffee mornings, fishing and an 'Only Mums Allowed' pamper session! MLD pupils also joined in with the senior citizens for their Christmas lunch and the concert.

A HEART-WARMING TALE OF THE NEW YORK VISIT by Ryan Thornton

Thirty-seven pupils and three staff departed on Monday, October 28 from Heathrow airport despite 65 scheduled flights being cancelled due to the storms. We arrived at our hostel in the late afternoon and from there we went to Times Square for the remainder of the evening.

On Tuesday morning we went to the Empire State Building and went up to the observatory on the 86th floor. The pupils then had the chance to explore 34th Street. We then went back up to Times Square for the evening.

On Wednesday morning we visited the 9/11 memorial, on the site of the twin towers. This proved to be quite emotional for the pupils when they realised the enormity of the event close up and the number of people killed.

From there we went over to Battery Park, where we caught the ferry to Liberty Island and Ellis Island. The pupils then had the chance to experience Chinatown and Little Italy.

On Thursday we toured Central Park where we visited Strawberry Fields to see the John Lennon memorial. The weather prevented us from ice skating on the outdoor rink so we all had a hot dog in the rain.

The pupils had further opportunities to explore and shop on Fifth Avenue and 34th Street before we departed for Newark airport in the evening.

The pupils were fantastic throughout and a credit to the school. We met a number of New Yorkers who commented as much when we went for breakfast in a local diner.

One 75-year-old lady was so impressed that she told her daughter about us, who in turn asked her mother to give us a gift so we could buy the pupils a little something from her, if she saw us again. This turned out to be $300, which was an amazing bit of generosity from someone we had never met. (This is where the hotdogs came from!).

Art gallery visit

As part of their art A and AS Level course, Mrs Helen Williams took the year-12 and 13 art students to the National Museum and Galleries of Wales, Cardiff. They were asked to look at the drawings, paintings and sculptures (as well as to go to the Natural History section) and select the exhibits that are of most interest to them. They spent the day drawing their chosen pieces, taking photographs and making notes. The students are now using these pieces to help them develop their AS and A Level coursework.

Friends of Pencoed Comprehensive School

Following the AGM in November, the newly appointed joint chairs are Toni Lewis and Karen Jordan. Alison Richards was appointed treasurer with Claire Cotterell remaining as secretary. Everyone is welcome to attend the next meeting on January 29 at 6.30pm. Everyone is also welcome to join the 'Friends of Lucky Numbers Club' for £1 a month. Forms are available from school reception.

The show really did prove that Pencoed has talent and was jam packed with energetic and powerful musical numbers as well as some great character acting from years-7, 8 and 9.

News from the drama department

It has been such a busy time for the drama department but there has still been time to squeeze in an exam or two! Year-11 recently completed 60 per cent of their GCSE and had to create their own devised pieces as well as write an evaluation report. Mrs Smith was very pleased with the standard and is sure that the class can match the great comments the department received from the external examiner last year!

'In Tune'

The lower school drama club performed to a packed house of very proud families and friends on December 3.

'In Tune', loosely based on the very popular movie Pitch Perfect, was written especially for KS 3 drama by Miss Lewis who has been covering Mrs Hewitt whilst she has been on maternity leave. Our head of drama and performing arts was very proud of all the cast and crew and was even more delighted that she had not had to do any of the hard work for this production!

"I am delighted that the drama department has developed again this year with the help of Miss Lewis who has provided such a fantastic opportunity for the younger pupils to perform their own show," said Mrs Smith.

The show really did prove that Pencoed has talent and was jam packed with energetic and powerful musical numbers as well as some great character acting from years-7, 8 and 9.

The cast were also delighted to hear that Miss Lewis will also be staying with us after Christmas working part time in the drama and music departments. Here's to the next show Miss Lewis!

All donations for 'In Tune' will go towards the continued refurbishment of the rehearsal room in the Drama department.

'Little Shop of Horrors'

The school production this year is 'Little Shop of Horrors!' Mrs Smith and Mrs Jenkins certainly had their work cut out casting this show as so many talented pupils wanted to audition.

Once again, some parts have been double cast and also some roles split to make sure everyone has a chance to shine on the night! The show runs from July 9 - 12.

Film roles for Pencoed pupils!

A number of budding actors from Pencoed have been chosen to play roles in a brand new feature film called 'BERSERKERS'. Tornado Films auditioned for the roles as part of THE LIGHTNING HUT Saturday Youth Theatre based at school and run by Mrs Smith and Mrs Hewitt.

They spent several days filming in bitter conditions but all had such a fantastic experience especially as they all had to wear authentic costumes and roll around in mud before they became fully involved in their performance!

There are a number of well-known actors in the film and we look forward to seeing them all on the big screen next year!

Lightning Hut

Don't forget you can join our very own Saturday Drama, Dance and Music Youth group! The Lightning Hut meets every Saturday during term time and has over 60 members aged four - 19 years.

The Lightning Hut offers many classes in different skills and recently they had a very special workshop with a Shadow Theatre expert who came down from London to teach them. The new term starts back on Jan 18. www.thelightninghut.com.

Wishing everyone a busy and prosperous New Year!

Stories of past Christmas day swims evoke happy memories

These days, Wendy is an active, passionate and utterly committed member of the hardworking Christmas Swim committee, which meets regularly from September onwards, to discuss strategies and where the substantial donations will go.

"Each year, every penny of the sponsorship money and that collected in buckets on the day goes to good causes locally. This year, we have cancer sufferer Beth Margetson on our list, who has been refused a life-extending drug by the Local Health Board and is struggling to fund it herself. We try and help where we can".

Wendy now acknowledges the Porthcawl Swim for the inspiring and altruistic occasion it has become and rather regrets her earlier cur-mudgeonly attitude.

"What my Dad and Jack started is actually amazing and has helped so many people. It is sad that Dad isn't here anymore to see the work continue, but my brother Gareth has taken on his role, so he's here in spirit."

"It was awful when dad died at Rest Bay and Christmas Day became a very sad day for a number of years. But he was doing something he loved, so we have to be grateful for that. The sea was his passion and we must carry on in his memory. It's brought us comfort over the years".

With her mellowing has also come a flood of now much fonder memories, particularly that legendary donkey. "We used to start with a parade - we still do - around the hotels and the Masonic home, singing carols and having a chat with residents and one year, we'd got hold of this donkey, presumably to pull the sleigh on the beach.

"We put it in the dairy behind dad's caff the night before. On Christmas Day, stubborn as the proverbial mule, it absolutely refused to come out. We pushed it and pulled it, but it simply wouldn't budge". These days, it's the local fire engine which transports Father Christmas, Coco and team around the town and much merriment is had - and pleasure given - before the noisy cavalcade reaches Coney Beach.

Jack recalls another unusual mode of transport; "We decided it would be fun for me to arrive by glider, but the first year we tried, the winch stalled and then the tow cable broke."

"Mr Theodore's Landrover, aka the 'hot toddy' wagon managed to get me there on time. The following year we did manage it, going from a height of 900 feet above Stormy Down. Arlon, who was such a great friend, often reminded my wife that we had no insurance!".

These days, health and safety is a greater concern and the life-guards and St John Ambulance are always on duty to ensure that the swim is carried out safely. "I can tell if someone is getting too cold" says veteran Vic "and I usher them out of the water pretty quickly. "We've only ever had one case of hypothermia, but that chap had been soaking up another kind of liquid in great quantities the night before. He was fine, thankfully, but he never turned up again. We really are very vigilant".

The Christmas Swim website bears a clear warning to all potential participants: Keep warm prior to the swim. No alcohol before the swim. If you are over 50 or on medication, check with your doctor. Those who have passed the Rubicon into middle age, yet are in denial, please take note.

In recent years, there are probably just as many women as men who take the plunge. One of these is stalwart Susan Powell, aged 59, who has been coming to Porthcawl on Christmas Day, from her home in Caldicot since 1978.

"I didn't learn to swim until I was 16, but then I met Arlon Owens and we became friends with the family. It'll be my 35th swim this year"

For Susan, as for many, the event offers a sense of belonging and camaraderie in what might otherwise be a quiet day. "My Mum died in 2005, so now it's just me and my dad. We go down together, then have our Christmas dinner when we get home.

"It's a great community feeling and it's not always that cold. I've never worn a wetsuit like some of the newcomers do. Not once!".

Joining Susan, will be Jackie Jones, who has also swum regularly with her husband Graham. For years she was Mother Christmas and donned a suitable costume, including the obligatory fishnet tights.

"She still puts those on on Christmas morning" quips Wendy. "It's all in the name of good fun". Like Vic and his shiny Vaseline torso, it would seem the event has spawned more than the odd exhibitionist. "Why not, if it helps to raise so much money?"

For Ken James, 2013 will also, he hopes, have provided an extra financial boost to the Christmas Swim coffers. "I'm clearing my house out, in case I should die tomorrow - who knows what's round the corner? - and I am donating all of the Christmas mugs I have collected over the years - all 26 of them, to the Christmas Swim Committee."

"They can auction them as a special collection and raise even more funds for local charities and needy causes. I suppose I'm closing that chapter of my life really and I'll be glad that all those years of freezing limbs and chattering teeth will ultimately result in helping someone."

Still as fit as a fiddle (albeit it without Vic's permatan), was Ken tempted when the morning of the 25th arrived? "If I'm honest, yes. I thought I could still do it and travel down to my daughter's in Portsmouth afterwards. "But it's not the same now that Barbara's not here. No waiting towel. And no hot soup. Wherever I am, I try not to leave my house for too long. I've lived there for over 50 years and I still feel as if Barbara is there with me".

With the amazing turn out this year, it is obvious that the swim has an enduring appeal. "It really is an event that's carried out in true Christmas spirit" says founder member Jack.

"As always, it will raise a substantial sum of money and it brings the whole community and hundreds of families together. It is such a fantastic way to start Christmas Day, which has become so commercialised in recent years".

"It's an unbelievable

KITTENS ARE STARS OF CHRISTMAS

SPICE, NUTMEG, FIGGY, BERRY, PUDDING AND BRANDY.

THERE were some Christmas arrivals at the Cats Protection Centre in Bryncethin.

Centre manager Sue Dobbs explained: "One heavily pregnant cat, Rebecca, gave birth to six beautiful kittens (left) a week before Christmas. It is quite unusual for us to have such young kittens in our care this time of year as kitten season normally comes to an end in October or November.

"The kittens' festive names were chosen after Whiskers UK asked their social media followers to help name them. They are called Spice, Figgy, Pudding, Berry, Brandy and Nutmeg.

"The 120 cats and kittens in our care enjoyed a bumper Christmas thanks to members of the public's generosity. We had hundreds of toys bought for them from our Amazon wish list, and many more donated by individuals and collections by local businesses. The cats also enjoyed a tasty meal of 'Applaws' thanks to the Pets at Home scheme supporting charities.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank The GEM for its continued support by publishing our stories. We have homed 1,250 cats and kittens this year.

"This is the highest number of cats homed since 2010 and one of the highest for an individual centre across Cats Protection."

A CHRISTINGLE candle service was held in St Michael's Church at the Sandville Self Help Centre, Ton Kenfig, just before Christmas.

The service was conducted by Rev Canon Philip Masson, Archdeacon of Margam and Rector of Porthcawl, Newton and Nottage.

The church was packed to capacity for the service, with guitarists Ray and Wyn providing the music.

A buffet was enjoyed afterwards in the main building and the raffle was drawn by Canon Masson, assisted by local children. Tea was served by Emma and her mother.

A total of £840 was raised for the Sandville over the Christmas period.

Residents hand £500 cheque to BHF charity

OAPs living in a sheltered scheme run by Newydd Housing Association like to "give something back", and this year organised a raffle in aid of the British Heart Foundation (BHF).

Chris Murrell of the residents' association said: "We managed to raise the fantastic amount of £501. Pictured above for the cheque presentation were Chris Murrell from Arthur Davidson Court, Kim Hooper and Lauren Campbell from BHF, and Muriel Thomas of Arthur Davidson Court, too.

"We would like to whole-heartedly thank everyone who contributed. Special thanks to Sandra Rehman, of Arthur Davidson Court, who single-handedly raised £223, but was unable to attend the presentation following a recent mini-stroke. We all wish Sandra a full and speedy recovery."

New scheme teaches skills to the homeless

Coun Bronwen Brooks watches a lesson in progress.

STAFF from the Vale Council's homeless hostel, Ty Iolo, and council contractor Ian Williams Ltd have teamed up to teach DIY skills to former and current residents of the hostel.

The four-week training course was held at Robert Price Building Merchants in Barry, and offered training in painting, wallpapering, carpentry and tiling to give tenants the confidence to undertake home improvements once they have their own home.

Lee Chappell, a previous resident of Ty Iolo, said: "The people are very friendly and patient and the course gives you a head start for when you move into your property."

Coun Bronwen Brooks, cabinet member for housing, building maintenance and community safety, who was invited to the final course, said: "I was really pleased to come and see the volunteers passing on their skills. This project is what community spirit is all about."

Sinead O' Neill, customer service and community manager for Ian Williams, said: "We are committed to delivering the community promises that we make to our customers. Ty Iolo and its dedicated staff offer an essential service to many individuals and families who find themselves in need of temporary accommodation."

"What is special about this type of project is that there is always a tangible outcome at the end."

Ian Williams, manager of Ty Iolo, and the Vale Council are now in the process of evaluating the project and plan further sessions during 2014.

Pupils have a busy end of term programme

CLASS 9SP held a cake break and raffle recently and raised over £80 for the Children's Cardiac Unit at the University Hospital of Wales.

They have also donated their old toys to the play room on the ward.

Pupils in years 10 – 12 visited the Clothes Show Live exhibition in Birmingham NEC. Not only did they shop till they dropped, but they also saw professional fashion shows, hair and beauty demonstrations and style makeovers.

NEWS FROM BRYN HAFREN SCHOOL

Pupils also saw former pupil, award-winning Hannah Williams show her graduate collection on the catwalk.

On December 17, pupils delivered 52 hampers to elderly residents in Barry as part of the annual Christmas hamper tradition at Bryn Hafren. The hampers were bursting with food, from everyday items to chocolate treats, and were topped with a Christmas cake made by the Food Technology Department.

Staff at Bryn Hafren put on an extra special nativity play for pupils in years 7 to 10. The cast was led by headteacher Mr Whitcombe as Joseph, and deputy headteacher Mrs Olden as Mary.

Year-7 pupils visited the Memorial Theatre to watch the Billboard panto Jack and the Beanstalk, starring our very own Mr Coombs.

A group of year-8 pupils have been working on a special Christmas enterprise project recently. They have designed and made a range of products in small groups over the last few weeks, and have been selling them to pupils during the last week of term to raise money. Products ranged from stockings, Christmas tree decorations and jewellery.

Year-8 pupils were lucky enough to go on a reward trip to see Frozen in the cinema; while year-9 pupils went to Planet Ice to go ice skating. The 5x60 regulars were rewarded with a ski trip as well.

Singers raised £230 for appeal

TWENTY members of Cowbridge Choral Society spent an evening before Christmas carol singing around the town in aid of the Noah's Ark Children's Hospital.

Over £230 was collected from customers in the Bear Hotel, The Vale Inn, The Duke of Wellington, Bar 44, The Horse and Groom, L'Ariosto's and The Edmondson Arms.

The society would like to offer thanks and appreciation to all the establishments, and to the customers who gave so generously and joined in with the choir.

The society resumes rehearsals today (January 2) when work begins on two pieces for the spring concert, Gounod's Messe Solennelle (St Cecilia) and Puccini's Messe di Gloria, which will be performed in March with the Pontypridd Choral Society.

New members are always welcome to join, and experience is not essential. Rehearsals take place in the United Free Church, Westgate St (opposite the Police Station) every Thursday at 7.30pm.

Walter Mitty (alias Ben Stiller) enthralls, inspires and dazzles in beautiful film

WHILE Ben Stiller may have made his name as a comedic star in the raucous likes of There's Something About Mary, the actor has a sensitive side best exemplified in his smaller work in films like Greenberg and The Royal Tenenbaums.

Stiller's worlds collide in The Secret Life of Walter Mitty, a big-budget comedy/drama directed by Stiller himself which tells the story of the titular Mitty (played by Stiller), a day-dreamer whose life is punctuated by flights of fancy.

When his job is threatened, he must track down a missing photo, a mission that becomes even more fanciful than his mental adventures and one that may very well change his life...

James Thurber's source novel has already been adapted for the big screen once in the 1947 film of the same name starring Danny Kaye, but Ben Stiller's version is faithful neither to that film, nor to the book.

The daydreaming aspect of Mitty's character is tied up in the first half hour, the raft of fantasy sequences giving way to something far more human and grounded.

This allows the real beauty of the film to shine through, the story less about a daydreamer and more about a man whose world and horizons are ever changing, inspired by his desire to do right and that age-old motivational tool – love.

While Ben Stiller has always been a good director, here he really lets loose, creating a film with a distinct visual style that looks absolutely gorgeous; whether it's the interior of the Life magazine office building, or the desolate Greenland vistas, every shot feels beautifully framed, with clever nods inserted that don't feel like a director trying to be too clever, instead nailing the tone Stiller is aiming for.

The size of the budget is clearly on show here, with the majority of the location film conveying the epic nature of the world we live in, and Stiller's ability to capture this marks him out as more than simply a comedic director.

Steven Conrad's script wisely casts the fantasy sequences out early on, using the concept as a launchpad to craft a tale of a man who spends so much time inside his own head that he finds it difficult living in the real world.

While some of Conrad's themes of self-discovery could have felt a little mawkish (and, admittedly, sometimes they do lapse into sentimentality), predominantly the feeling is of wonder and affirmation, Mitty regaining control of his life in (extreme) circumstances, but in a way many watching may wish they could emulate.

In front of the camera, Stiller is perfectly cast as the average guy in extraordinary circumstances, something he's become a little too good at in recent years, but he gives a wonderful performance as the unlikely hero, while Kristen Wiig offers a lovely foil as the woman of his affections.

Kathryn Hahn, Shirley MacLaine and Adam Scott are all superb in supporting roles, but this is a film that hangs entirely on Stiller's shoulders and the actor (and director) relishes the opportunity, in what is a wonderfully uplifting film.

VERDICT: An affirming, charming and beautiful film, The Secret Life of Walter Mitty is a wonderful piece of work, with Ben Stiller's direction hugely impressive and his performance just as strong.

Perfect for an age where people seem to prefer living life inwardly, this is the perfect antidote to that, inspiring and uplifting. Recommended.

Welsh Society's fundraising efforts help voluntary group

EVERY year, Cymdeithas Gymraeg Dinas Powys Welsh Society holds a charity fundraising evening and this year's choice of charity was especially pertinent to the village of Dinas Powys.

The Dinas Powys Voluntary Concern Ambulance/Bus is a very special service offered to the elderly of the village, and many of our members are on the rota for driving the vehicle and collecting and delivering our older residents to various venues.

The evening at the Parish Hall was a tremendous success. We were entertained in both Welsh and English by the wonderful classical group 'Fortza', who also led the assembled guests in carol singing, which was a joy to hear.

It is with delight, therefore, that we can announce that we made a profit of £2,565 on that night and the large cheque was presented to

John Fanshaw, chairman of DPVC (above) following our Christmas service at St Peter's Church in the presence of Dr Barry Morgan, Archbishop of Wales on December 16.

It will be put to good use, and enhance the lives of the less mobile members of the community.

The society wishes to thank everyone who helped to make the evening such a success.

YOUR CHANCE TO SHARE COMMUNITY NEWS

NORTH BRIDGEND NEWS

A message for all readers in the north of Bridgend who would like to have items included in the community news columns of The GEM:

If you wish to submit reports on any social activity in this region, please contact me.

I am very approachable and will endeavour to include every newsworthy subject.

email: tyncoed1@yahoo.co.uk

FIRSTLY, I would like to wish the readers of this column a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

School concerts

I WOULD like to thank the headteachers of Brynmynyn, Tondur and Tynrhyl for inviting me to their school Christmas concerts.

Brynmynyn held its concert this year in the hall of the new Y n y s a w d r e Comprehensive School, and what a magnificent venue it was, and it was packed.

I know some parents feel schools spend too much time in producing these concerts, instead of educating the children in the three R's but the confidence of the children is amazing compared to schooling after the war. In these concerts, children learn correct pronunciation of words, they learn about music, as well as social history.

Santa appeal

BRYNTEG pupils have once again shown their caring side by raising money to help children less fortunate than themselves in the community.

This year's Santa Appeal got off to a fantastic start with form tutors and groups of pupils working harder than ever to come up with new ways to raise as much money as possible for families in Bridgend who needed help and support over the Christmas period.

The Santa Appeal has been a firm fixture on Brynteg's charity calendar for the last 20 years and has helped hundreds of families across Bridgend at Christmas.

Form groups came up with novel ways to raise money by carrying out all sorts of activities. Brynteg staff also entered into the spirit of the challenge and are to be commended for their enthusiasm in taking part in 'I'm a teacher, get me out of here'.

This activity involved teachers eating such delicacies as brussel sprouts and strawberry smoothie, Coco Pops in a cold cheesy sauce, rice pudding mixed with cold sausages, tuna and custard, and many more!

The pupils paid a small fee to witness the spectacle and bid to have the power to decide what the teachers had to eat. It must be stressed that no teachers were harmed during the course of this activity!

Last year, its Santa Appeal helped the Women's Aid refuge in Bridgend and donated £350 for a new television set.

The pupils were determined to beat last year's total of £5,000 and by the end of the fundraising the final total raised was close to £6,000. This year, Brynteg again donated presents and money (£350) to the Women's Refuge.

A number of pupils accompanied Mr Craig Wade, a French teacher and Santa Appeal co-ordinator at Brynteg, to Bridgend CBC civic offices and delivered 212 sacks of presents for distribution.

A delighted Mr Wade commented: "This was a wonderful effort by the pupils and everyone associated with Brynteg School is immensely proud of them. Their enthusiasm was inspiring and the sight of all the Christmas sacks on stage was truly heart-warming."

Well done to all at Brynteg."

Aberkenfig WI AT Aberkenfig and District Women's Institute's last meeting of 2013, Eunice Williams, president, welcomed members to the pre-Christmas meeting and happy birthday was sung to Ethel Rudge and Gillian Williams.

There will be some fascinating events taking place in the New Year. This month is the whist competition. In March there will be an Italian Day in Bridgend (this is also International Women's Day, March 8). On March 27, there will be a guided city walk in Bath.

The Rosebowl and Brecon Cup flower arranging and craft competitions will be held on May 1 in Miskin Catholic church hall, and an afternoon of fun.

Glamorgan Federation WI Show is on July 25-26 in North Cornelly community centre.

The competition was won by Gillian Williams with a porcelain Nuthatch bird; the raffle prizes went to Ethel Rudge, Dorothy Thomas, Irene Burgess, Margaret Crocker and Maureen Pearce.

Gillian Williams gave a vote of thanks to the committee for all their hard work over the year, and a special thank you to Pat Lewis, who was retiring as secretary.

Then it was time to enjoy the festive tea members had provided.

The first meeting of the New Year will be on January 8 at 2pm in the Welfare Hall, Heol Persondy, Aberkenfig.

Contact secretary Dilys Mitchell on 01656 725399, or www.cob-webs.co.uk.

Busy choir

CŌR Meibion Cwm Llynfi (Maesteg and District male voice choir) had a busy pre-Christmas concert programme; it entertained the residents at the Alzheimer's Society Bridgend and District Service Base, Angelton Clinic in Glanrhyd Hospital.

It also entertained residents at the Glan Yr Afon residential home for the elderly.

The choir held its social night at the Maesteg Celtic club, Garth which was a huge success with a buffet prepared by the wives of chorists.

Presentations were made to Rhian Jenkins, the choir's musical director and Gerwyn Thomas, secretary, by the public relations officer Robert

Doyle, on behalf of the choir as a thank you for their hard work in 2013.

The choir has been invited to sing in Cardiff at the end of the month in Pant Mawr.

The chorists are already rehearsing hard for the annual concert on January 25. Tickets will be on sale shortly costing £8 and will be available from any choir member.

Music success Congratulations go to a pupil from Archbishop McGrath Roman Catholic Comprehensive School, Macie Wallis.

Following an audition at the school, this 12-year-old violin virtuoso, has been chosen to go to Manchester's Chetham

School of Music.

Macie, a member of Bridgend CBC youth orchestra, was the first primary school pupil to be selected to play for the Four Counties Youth Orchestra, and has also been chosen to join the National Children's Orchestra of Great Britain.

Wildlife Trust of South and West Wales

NEXT Monday, January 6, in the visitors' centre at Parc Slip nature reserve, Tondur, the public are invited to a talk by Dr Katie Mortimer-Jones on amazing creatures that live on the sea bed around our coast, at 7.30pm.

Squadron celebrates two promotions!

JUST like a bus, you wait for one and then two come along! The end of December saw two very proud and happy men at 2117 (Kenfig Hill) Squadron RAF Air Cadets.

Wing Commander Mike Stones RAFVR (T) and Sqn Ldr Gerry Lewis RAFVR (T) of No 3 Welsh Wing RAF Air Cadets, visited the squadron to announce the promotions. The cadets were called to the parade room and addressed by Wing Commander Mike Stones.

Sgt (ATC) Kevin Gould was promoted to Flight Sergeant; he has been with Kenfig Hill Squadron since 2008 and has been one of the main organisers of the many visits and events the cadets take part in.

At present he is responsible for squadron discipline and drill, squadron maintenance and is in charge of the flight simulator.

The second promotion was that of Flt Lt Barry Thomas RAFVR (T) to Squadron Leader.

Commanding Officer of Kenfig Hill for just over 25 years, in the last year he has also taken on being the point of contact for the IT system, BADER, used by the wing. It is usual for a Squadron Leader to take up a post at Wing HQ, but Sqn Ldr Thomas is to remain as Officer Commanding Kenfig Hill Squadron.

Wing Commander Mike Stones congratulated both on their promotions and handed new rank tabs to both Flt Sgt Gould and Sqn Ldr Thomas.

Lindsay Thomas, Secretary, Civilian Committee

A New Year for Hobbies, Fitness & Leisure

The New Year is a great time to make a change

At this time of year, you can't escape the subject of New Year resolutions.

It's a prime example of how hope springs eternal in the human spirit.

Something about the numerical change of year brings out a wave of optimism, and you are inspired to do something that you hope will change your life!

Probably the most popular resolution is to move to a healthier lifestyle, taking more exercise and eating a healthier diet.

This is hardly surprising, as most of us are weighed down by Christmas indulgences, and the weighing scales have started flashing red for danger!

It's hard to argue with that type of resolution. It's a plan that anyone would benefit from.

However, there are plenty of alternatives for that new year promise to yourself.

Why not decide to read more books during the year?

Just have one on the go all the time, and read a few pages every day, to get into the habit again.

You could, of course, decide to take the option of joining an evening class, or getting involved in a new hobby.

We journalists on The GEM, because of the nature of our job, get to know a little bit about a lot of subjects, but one thing is very clear.

Almost any subject can be fascinating if you get the chance to go deeper into it.

There's so much out there to learn – and not just during January!

Honours list is revealed

A NUMBER of notable personalities in the Bridgend and Vale areas have been recognised in the New Years Honours' List for 2014.

ORDER OF THE BATH, KCB: Derek William Jones, from Penarth, CB, Permanent secretary, Welsh Government. For public service especially to economic and social conditions in Wales.

OBE: Syon Ivan Sadka. Chair, Derek Williams Trust. For services to the National Museum of Wales and to the Arts in Wales, Sully.

MBE: Mrs Morfydd Conway. For services to the community in Gibbonsdown, Barry.

BEM: Maj David Davies, TD. Secretary, Mid-Glamorgan Branch, SSAFA. For voluntary service to SSAFA, Porthcawl.

Gwyn John. For voluntary services to Grassroots Football in Llantwit Major, Vale of Glamorgan.

Mrs Christina Suzanne Selby. Founder, Hats4Heroes. For voluntary service to the Armed Forces in Afghanistan, Penarth.

TAKING THE WEIGHT OFF YOUR MIND...

LOCAL Slimming World consultant Helen Waite wants to help more people achieve their weight loss goals in 2014.

Helen says: "2013 was a great year for many of my members. With many, many stones being shed in the Llantwit Major groups, and many members reaching their dream target weights by eating everyday normal foods that the whole family are able to eat with you, there is never a better time to join Slimming World."

More than half of people in Wales (57 per cent) are overweight and 22 per cent have an obese BMI: 22 per cent of Welsh children aged three were overweight, just over five per cent were obese and 35 per cent are classified as overweight or obese, including 19 per cent obese.

At Slimming World all 11 to 15-year-old children are able to come free of charge with a parent member. They have their own fantastic plan and are supported on their journey.

"My children are five and seven years old and they enjoy the meals I cook, it makes it so much easier as it's just healthy food rather than 'diet' food."

"Their favourite is spaghetti bolognese or egg, beans and chips," says Helen.

"Men in Wales are more likely to be overweight than women – 62 per cent of men are overweight or obese, compared to 53 per cent of women. We have an increasing number of male members attending Slimming World and they are more than welcome to attend."

The physical, psychological and social burdens of obesity can be significant.

There is a social stigma attached to being overweight and people who struggle with their weight often suffer low confidence and self-esteem.

Poor mobility and generally poorer quality of life are other common experiences; as are increased risk of chronic diseases, such as heart disease, diabetes, arthritis, high blood pressure and some types of cancer.

Slimming World can help to combat this – losing just 10 per cent of your starting body weight (known as Club 10) – can give you amazing health benefits, as well as make you feel so much better, and it increases your confidence.

If you would like to make 2014 your year, please feel free to pop along to group on a Tuesday at the Catholic Church, Ham Lane East, at either 9.30am, 5.30pm or 7.30pm – or contact Helen on 01446 750738.

Lest we forget, Welsh is a British language!

IN reply to Eileen Bayley's letter on bilingual signs in The GEM, December 12, she is right to state that Wales is at present part of the United Kingdom, and I find it a shame that the Welsh signs upset her so much.

If she looks around Wales, she will find the names of thousands of Welshmen, Welsh-speaking, or not, on our Cenotaphs - who were good enough and brave enough to fight and die for the United Kingdom.

Without their sacrifice, who knows what language she would be speaking now?

Many of those young men would have been Welsh speakers, and it is very sad that it is only recently that we have been able to have Welsh signs and official bilingual forms.

When I served as a member of groundcrew at RAF Brawdy in 1984-88, there were many Welsh speakers on our shift, and I remember an incident with a pilot who shouted at me: "Stop speaking that foreign language!"

My reply was: "With due respect sir, Welsh is a British language, and if you look at the insignia that is on the front of your aircraft and every aircraft here, it reads in Welsh, Amdiffynna'r Gorllewin, which means Defend the West".

And off he went... There were no more complaints.

If Mrs Bayley needs a Welsh tutor to help her, I am available.

Aled Hughes, Llanilltud Fawr.

'RESPECT IS ALL WE ASK'

HOW disappointing and upsetting it was to read Eileen Bayley's letter in The GEM stating that she was "flabbergasted to encounter bilingual signing" and that "bilingual madness is taking over".

There are 584,000 Welsh speakers in Wales and many more thousands of people who wholly support the use of the Welsh language in a country that is bilingual - a country where Welsh and English have equal rights in law - not to mention the heritage our language gives us from 1,500 years of history.

I am also saddened that she takes her experience of one county in Wales as the identity of a whole country.

Each county in Wales has different experiences, culture and heritage to offer - creating the make-up of our country.

It is a shame that Eileen hasn't been able to travel around Wales to experience the different cultures, mannerisms and dialects in our beautiful land.

Welsh is a language I love and choose to speak.

I do not ask Eileen to love the language. I do not ask her to speak the language, or even acknowledge the language - but to respect other people's decision to be able to read, speak and write the language of their choice - whether it is Welsh or English. Miss M. Williams, Llantwit Major.

Welsh Language: All in favour of linguistic diversity

THE GEM has been inundated recently with letters debating the merits and demerits of the Welsh language, and bilingual road signs.

As an Anglo-Welshman (English father; Welsh mother) and having lived here for 46 years, I am all in favour of linguistic diversity.

Furthermore, as a frequent traveller to eastern and central Europe, with many acquaintances and friends, and clients living here from Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Poland, Hungary and Russia; all proficient linguists, I have never heard any of them complain of difficulty following Welsh bilingual road signs.

In addition, while dining in Hungary and elsewhere, with Hungarian being a uniquely difficult and different language, I too, have had no difficulty navigating myself around.

As for Graham Wilson of Boverton (The GEM December 19) stating that he misses trains because of brief Welsh travel announcements, I think he needs to come back down to earth and not fantasise so ridiculously.

Christopher Short, Barry.

'It's not lunacy... but bilingual signs costly'

IT is certainly not lunacy to have bilingual signs in Wales; however GEM letter writer Ms Bailey is correct in highlighting the cost.

It is essential that all children in Wales learn English, otherwise their life prospects would be severely curtailed by not being able to do so. They would be limited to living and working in Wales.

It is also desirable, and legally required, that the Welsh language is kept as a living language within the Principality.

The problem is that bilingualism costs money to support. This means money that perhaps ought to be spent on providing and supporting public services, has to be spent on ensuring that both languages are available and taught throughout Wales.

Significant amounts of money could be saved if households were asked by public bodies whether they wish to receive hard copy information in English or Welsh.

As far as I know, the UK Government does not give Wales any more money to cover the costs of bilingualism, so these additional costs have to be met at the expense of services such as health, education and welfare.

There is another issue affecting employment in Wales. When I first moved to Wales 30 years ago, the adverts for senior managers in public bodies emphasised the professional skills required to do the job and specified that knowledge of Welsh was desirable.

If you look at the adverts and job specifications today they now, largely, specify that the ability to speak Welsh is essential.

So a prime requirement for a senior management position in a public body in Wales automatically eliminates anyone who was educated anywhere else in the UK.

Is this a case of positive discrimination to further emphasise the separateness of Wales from the rest of the UK and Europe and does it guarantee high-quality leadership of major bodies?

Wrong to praise council spending

INOTE that the leader Neil Moore and the Vale Council have been awarded a plaque and certificate, from Diverse Excellence Cymru for the recent renovations to the council chamber, which cost taxpayers over £248,000.

This, at a time when we are seeing a massive increase in the number of Vale residents using Foodbanks.

What about the cuts

we can expect in 2014, the predicted council tax increase, and all those residents who have been hit by the 'bedroom tax' and face being evicted from their homes because they have lost benefits?

It is offensive for a body like the DEC to praise councils for spending taxpayers' money on useless projects, when so many people are struggling to live on basics day by day.

Make a resolution to help the Guide Dogs

DO you make a New Year's Resolution, only to break it within days? This year, why not set yourself a more realistic target - and help Guide Dogs into the bargain.

'Give It Up For Guide Dogs' is a campaign that encourages people to give up something they love - such as chocolate, cakes or alcohol - for the whole month of January.

You'll feel even better when friends and family sponsor your efforts, and you give the money to Guide Dogs.

There are currently more than 250 working guide dogs in Wales, many of them in Bridgend and the Vale, and the lifetime cost for each one is estimated at just under £50,000. By Giving It Up For Guide Dogs, you can help us continue our life-changing work, bringing independence and safe mobility to many more blind and partially sighted people.

For more inspiration on what you could Give Up For Guide Dogs, and to download a sponsor form, log on to www.guidedogs.org.uk/fundraising or call 0870 600 23 23.

Alternatively, you can set up an online giving page at Just Giving - simply search for 'Give It Up For Guide Dogs' under Guide Dogs events.

PENARTH AND DISTRICT RAMBLERS' ROUND-UP

Wizards, dragons and robins were our festive companions!

RAMBLERS
Festival of Winter
Walks has taken in the festive season,
and Geraint and his
sheepdog Patch
played host on two walks before Christmas.

On the shortest day of 2013, seven members enjoyed a walk taking in Castell Coch, the Taff Trail and a zigzag climb up to Craig yr Allt in glorious winter sunshine.

Robins serenaded them at Caerphilly Mountain, while a herd of cows paddled in the mud looking very soulful and their return was made taking in the delights of the carved sculpture trail in Fforest Fawr, complete with wizards and dragons!

Geraint's second walk attracted the wind and rain and only two people as they trekked along the cliff top at Penarth, as what was predicted to be a leisurely simple local stroll turned into a battle against the elements.

Following the Wales Coast Path, some shelter was gained from hedges above the grey and choppy Bristol Channel and as the showers grew heavier, the trio turned inland at Lavernock Point, making their way along Fort Road to reach Cosmeston Country Park which was almost deserted.

Their return was made up the old disused Taff Vale railway track back to Penarth cliff top for a steaming cuppa before the journey home.

After Christmas on a very breezy but dry morning, only two walkers ventured out to join Joy with dogs Bracken and Bronte at Cold Knap. Heading uphill the trio made their way along the cliff to descend through Porthkerry Bay, followed by another climb to the Bulwarks.

From Porthkerry Caravan Park, they journeyed on to turn inland at Happy Valley and from Rhosoe Point development, crossing the railway line and reaching Rhosoe village, an energetic blustery wind faced them all the way back to Porthkerry Park.

Enjoying the shelter of the woods at Lovers' Lane and emerging onto Park Road, the very blustery return to the Knap was made via Romilly Park.

Hopefully, with the advent of 2014, the weather will eventually get better so here's to some good walking in the coming year.

On January 4, meet at 9am at the Barry Waterfront for a 10-mile moderate walk in the Vale of Glamorgan, taking in Beaupre Castle; contact Rachel on 01446 410545.

On January 5, meet at 9.30am at Cogan for a six-mile easy tramp around Cardiff Bay; contact Ann on 029 2040 7319.

Neighbours ended

year with their
Christmas party at
Beryl Road Pioneer
Hall, in Barry.

The party was made possible due to sponsorship by Barry Rotary Club, Aberthaw Power Station and Renishaw. Jane Hutt AM joined over 56 members at a festive four-course lunch followed by mince pies and a glass of wine.

The tables were tastefully decorated with crackers etc as well as the room decorated with trimmings.

Entertainment was provided by Barry Male Voice Choir, who sang carols and popular songs and the audience showed their appreciation.

Ms Hutt thanked Gay Fifield and the team for all their hard work. Alun Cairns MP later joined the party and praised the volunteers.

They were also entertained by Rev Malcolm Davies, with an amusing talk on hats he had collected from all over the world.

The group now take a break till February but are looking forward to the visit to New Theatre Pantomime to see Jack and the Beanstalk.

Further information from coordinator Gay Fifield (01446 400044).

END OF TERM NEWS ROUND-UP FROM YSGOL GYFUN BRO MORGANNWG

Llangrannog LAST month, year-7 pupils set off on their journey west to Llangrannog. They had a week filled with fun and activities, although it's hard to say if it was the children or teachers who enjoyed it the most!

URDD swim gala ON Wednesday, December 4, a group from YGBM went to Cogan Leisure Centre, Penarth, for the URDD swimming gala.

It was a full day of competition with excellent results at the end of which we came home with a total of 12 prizes – eight firsts, one second, and three thirds.

Rotary Youth Speaks

ON Wednesday evening, December 11, the Rotary Youth Speaks public speaking competition was held at the school. Despite only teams from YGBM taking part there was still plenty of competition.

Congratulations to the following winners:

Junior: Best speaker – Arwel Thomas. Best chair – Llinos Jones. Best vote of thanks – Twm Aled.

Senior: Best speaker – Lois Aled. Best chair – Leah Robinson. Best vote of thanks – Nia Brown.

The winning teams will now go on to the next round. Junior – Brenig Davies, Tíron Davies, Llinos Jones. Topic: Is society and the media defining our gender identities?

Senior – Lois Aled, Nia Brown, Nia Fenn. Topic: Is it time for us to stop 'horsing around'? Should we be searching for new meat alternatives in the wake of the horsemeat scandal?

BTEC visit ON Thursday, December 12, a group of year-10 boys from the BTEC SWEET course went on a trip to Llandow for a session with a driving instructor.

They had an interesting morning with Ian Wilcox of 'I Will Drive School of Motoring' who discussed all aspects of running and driving a car.

He started by discussing the costs of running a car, up to £4,000 on average in the first year between the costs of lessons, insurance and buying a car. Upon hearing this, the boys were eager to start looking for a Saturday job!

Next came a lesson on car maintenance – checking the oil, water, tyres etc and also the responsibilities of being a driver.

Last, but not least, what everyone was looking forward to the most – driving the car on the track at Llandow air strip.

AFTER school on Friday, December 13, a hardy group of over 50

staff and sixth formers braved the waters of Barry Island in aid of our chosen charity LATCH.

Thank you to Starbucks, Dunleavy Drive, for their contribution of coffee which was much appreciated!

Christmas Jumper Day ON Friday, December 13, Ysgol Gyfun Bro Morgannwg and Ysgol Gymraeg Nant Talwg both took part in the annual Save the Children 'Christmas Jumper Day'.

There was an array of jumpers sported by pupils and staff, between the two schools a total of £540 was raised, which will be split between Save the Children and the Philippines disaster appeal.

National Children's Orchestra

IT is with great pleasure we announce that Anwen Fardy, year-9, has been selected for the National Children's Orchestra of Great Britain 2014, the second year running she has been chosen.

Anwen was also successful in the recent regional Rotary Young Musician competition and will now go on to the South Wales round in March. Da iawn Anwen.

Group sees church marvels being restored

BETWEEN Christmas and New Year in 1992, St Donats Church was the scene of a crime which caught the imagination of the media, and was reported in the national press.

Three oil paintings on oak panels, forming a triptych portraying three generations of the Stradling family of St Donats Castle, with some of their history, and commissioned by the youngest of them in 1560, were stolen and a fire started. The triptych had hung in the church for hundreds of years.

Specialist police and a forensic team were quickly alerted, and the paintings were located in Cardiff under a mattress, obviously awaiting transfer. The paintings then went to the National Museum and were later on display, but were seen to deteriorate out of the very damp vestry atmosphere.

This autumn the Rector was informed that the museum had received a grant from the Pilgrim Trust to restore them, and conservator Charles Reed would be working on them two days a week, under the supervision of Adam Webster, head of the art conservation department.

Some members of St Donats' congregation were invited to see the progress, and a group were treated to a fascinating insight into the work in progress.

Charles explained that Protestant Tudor portraits were intended to show power and stability, hence the ancestry, the coats of arms, the colours and symbols used and the inscriptions in English so that everyone would understand them.

Work has included X-rays to show the underlying structure and ultra-violet scans of the paint work.

Some renovation work was carried out in the 19th century, and much of this was being removed and modern techniques being applied.

Two and a half panels have been stripped of layers of varnish, and it was interesting to see the contrast in the third panel.

The group were able to sit close to the paintings and see the wonderful brushwork and detail being revealed; for example, the embroidery on Lady Agnes's sleeve and armour in the centre painting.

The visit was thrilling, and the staff gave the group a wonderful presentation. Mr Reed will give a public talk when the work is completed in September.

St Donats has life-sized photos of the paintings on display which are one feature of this beautiful Grade 1 church.

Orchard House enjoys carols with local groups

ABOVE: president-elect Robin Pitcher with Rotarians, Inner Wheel members and residents of Orchard House.

MEMBERS of the Rotary Club of Barry and Inner Wheel came together on the evening of December 17, for a carol service with the residents of Orchard House, off Colcot Road, Barry.

Rotary Club president-elect, Mr. Robin Pitcher, welcomed everyone on this special evening.

After the opening carol, 'Hark the Herald Angels Sing', Rotarian Mike Righton read a few verses from the Bible.

Pianist for the evening was Rotarian Meirion Evans who had also prepared the evening's programme.

Other carols included 'Once in Royal David's City', 'It Came Upon the Midnight Clear', 'Silent Night', and 'O Little Town of Bethlehem.'

These were interspersed with two humorous items read by Inner Wheel members Mrs Eryl Evans and Mrs Beth Longley, and a musical contribution from Katy Brownjohn and her friend Lily.

Father Christmas also made a surprise appearance as everyone sang 'Jingle Bells!'. After the final carol, 'Hark the Herald Angels Sing,' president elect Robin thanked the residents and staff of Orchard House for such a warm welcome and wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Members of the Rotary Club of Barry are part of an international organization with one million members worldwide, forming a global network of business, professional and community volunteers.

CADETS HEAD FOR THE BRIGHT LIGHTS... London, here we come!

RIGHT:
The Cadets have had a busy end to 2013!

WHAT a fantastic end to the year for 2117 (Kenfig Hill) Squadron RAF Air Cadets!

At the beginning of December in the capable hands of Flt Sgt (ATC) Kevin Gould and Sgt (ATC) Richard Peckham, cadets from Kenfig Hill, Aberkenfig and Porthcawl went on a nine-day educational visit to London.

There was an extra pair of helping hands this year as Mrs Gould, who has recently joined the civilian committee, accompanied the group.

While staying at RAF Northolt, they ventured into London on several visits.

They thoroughly enjoyed the week, visiting the Imperial War Museum, Chelsea Pensioners' gardens, and war memorials in and around London; Jewel Tower, Science Museum, and National Army Museum.

While visiting the Queen's Colour Squadron, they were taught some drill movements, which is always an asset.

They also visited the Imperial War Museum, Duxford, which houses one of the finest collections of tanks, military vehicles and large exhibits in the country.

A lot of walking was involved and on one day the party walked around Hyde Park and looked at some of the memorials before going to Piccadilly Circus and then back to Nelson's Column.

With the help of Madeleine Moon MP, the cadets visited No 10 Downing Street and the Houses of Parliament where they had a full tour of both Houses with a talk on how Parliament works, and also got to stand where the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition stand during Prime Minister's Questions!

Staff and cadets from Kenfig Hill, Aberkenfig and Porthcawl, Wick Van Hire, Cowbridge ATC, Mrs Madeleine Moon MP – and, most of all, the people in the service and civilians who work at RAF Northolt who took time to look after the party while they were in London.

CADS CHAIRMAN STEPPING DOWN

RIGHT:
Kay, Gerda and The Snow Queen.

LONG-STANDING chairman of Cowbridge's dramatic society – Coun Peter Knapp – has announced that he will be standing down, following his elevation to Mayor-designate of Cowbridge with Llanblethian Council.

Peter said: "I am confident that the society will remain in good hands and we have lined up some great shows for 2014, including the comedies God of Carnage and The 39 Steps, which are described in a new booklet entitled 'What's On' at CADS, available from the Library in Old Hall Gardens.

"First, though, we are fortunate to have the Rain or Shine Theatre Company returning to Cowbridge on January 9 with their touring production of The Snow Queen, which I am sure will be a great show and enjoyed by all ages between 6 and 106.

"This is a new adaptation by award-winning director James Reynard of the classic Hans Andersen tale of good triumphing over evil in a snowy land. Tickets are available from WG Davies in the High Street, or by phoning 01446 773874.

"The show (one night only) which has been touring to excellent reviews commences at 7pm in the Market Theatre (off the Butts) Cowbridge."

Previous visits of Rain or Shine to Cowbridge have been dogged by snow, ice or monsoon rains but this time the Snow Queen herself has promised all will be well with the weather – subject to change of course...

Maesteg Mayor dives into the icy waters – all for charity!

Coun Ross Thomas, the Mayor of Maesteg, took part in the Porthcawl Christmas Day swim – wearing a 1920s traditional bathing costume! He told THE GEM: "With the help of my charity committee (above), we raised around £1,800 for Maesteg Community Day Hospital and the Maesteg 3rd Scouts Group.

Seasonal action for Farmers!

THE Christmas meeting of the Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society held recently at RAF St Athan Golf Club attracted 36 competitors, all competing for the usual seasonal prizes and also the opportunity to return home with the RAF Shield which the winning member retains for the next 12 months.

Prior to arriving at the first tee the members were treated to a delightful drop of Irish Whiskey and home-made shortbread biscuits which Mrs Leslie Thomas, wife of society captain Gwyn Thomas, provided.

This very generous seasonal treat was much appreciated and set the tone for what proved to be a most enjoyable event.

In a closely contested competition the final outcome was decided with Aubrey Bowen having a better back nine than Clive Thomas.

Standing on the 16th tee Clive had a commanding six point lead over his nearest rivals, but a disastrous finish by Clive who only scored one point on the last three holes proved costly.

Both Clive and Aubrey finished with 32 stableford points with Aubrey having one more point on the back nine than Clive.

In third place was Tony McCarthy with 31 points followed by Geraint Davies who scored 30 points. Llancclellan farmer David Williams, making an extremely quick return to action after being hospitalised recently as a result of losing an argument with a tree, finished in fifth place also with 30 points.

Nearest the pin on the par three holes were Martin David, Andrew Thomas, Clive Thomas and also Mike Lee, whose round was interrupted when a deflated tyre on a buggy he was sharing with Lyn Thomas attracted a few seasonal comments!

Dan Jarvis, not for the first time, hit the longest drive on the selected hole to win the Bear Hotel, Cowbridge sponsored prize.

Martin Edwards, enjoying a rare Thursday off from exercising hounds, correctly guessed 31 balls would fail to return home to collect the premier Turf sponsored bottle of whiskey raising £70 in the process for the Llantwit Major Lifeguards.

The society's next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, January 30 at Whitchurch Golf Club, Cardiff and will be sponsored by Llanharan Concrete Company Ltd.

The captain and committee members of The Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society wish fellow golfers and readers of this column a very happy New Year.

COWBRIDGE COMPREHENSIVE SPORTS ROUND-UP

Treble glory for 5x60 badminton!

AFTER storming to victory in the Badminton key stage 4 competition, it was the turn of the junior boys' team to take centre stage.

The venue once again was Cogan Leisure Centre in Penarth and although the journey there took longer than expected, this wasn't enough to take focus off the job in hand.

The team of Will Stewart, Evan Thomas, Harry Donnithorne and Michael Cox were ready to bring the silverware home.

First opponents for Cowbridge were Barry Comprehensive who provided plenty of passion. Will and Evan comfortably won their singles matches, with Harry and Michael following up with calm and collected triumph in their doubles.

The final doubles matches saw Will paired with Harry and Michael paired with Evan, with both partnerships easing to comfortable wins to make the overall match score 5-0.

This trend continued in games against Llantwit Major, Stanwell, Bro Morgannwg and St Richard Gwyn, with Cowbridge comfortably topping the round robin group.

In second place were Stanwell, who would be Cowbridge's opponents in the final. Will Stewart and Evan Thomas got the team off to the perfect start with convincing wins in the singles.

Nerves got the better of Michael and Harry, who unfortunately lost a tight doubles game, to make the score 2-1, going into the final two matches.

Victories in the concluding matches made the final score 4-1 and Cowbridge were proud to regain the trophy they lost to their opponents last year.

After last year's team won the national 5x60 badminton competition, the junior girls team of Kate Workman, Freya Johnson, Rhian Crossman and Abby Johnson had a great deal to live up to this time round. However, they arrived at the venue confident, calm and ready for action.

Their first opponents were St Richard Gwyn, who have a strong reputation for producing talented badminton players.

On this occasion Cowbridge were too strong and they triumphed 4-1.

Second up were Llantwit Major who brought a youthful side to the tournament. The difference in age groups showed as Cowbridge comfortably achieved victory 5-0.

The final group game was against Stanwell who beat the senior girls in the final of the key stage 4 competition.

However, this time round the Cowbridge team, full of confidence, ran out 5-0 winners, retaining the trophy.

Three out of the four teams entered now move into the south east region tournament, being held during the spring term.

Expectations are high but all three teams will need to move up a gear to beat the incoming teams from Cardiff, Bridgend, RCT and Merthyr.

After an unsuccessful venture to the national finals last year, the boys' badminton team of Sam Stewart, Matthew Reynolds, Finn Murphy and Josh Evans have returned to competition with devastating effect, determined to right the wrongs of the previous campaign.

The first port of call was the Vale of Glamorgan 5x60 tournament and having won the competition for the previous two years, the biggest threat to a third straight title must have been complacency.

The first opponents were a competitive St Cyres outfit, sporting new faces and a determination not seen in previous years.

After a difficult start, Sam Stewart's quality shone through and he delivered the first of a 4-1 team win, with Josh Evans combining passion and skill to win his two matches.

Next up were a very competitive Stanwell team, who are widely renowned for their proficiency with a racket. However, on this day, those abilities fell well short of the standards set by a resolute and unwavering Cowbridge team.

Having blown away the cobwebs against St Cyres, the flair and elegance of Matthew Reynolds combined with the dogged determination of Finn Murphy and Josh Evans resulted in a resounding 5-0 victory.

Last up during the group stage was a youthful and inexperienced Llantwit team, who although looked out of their depth, put in a gritty and heroic performance to try and deny a rampaging Cowbridge side.

Unfortunately for Llantwit, Cowbridge were in an unforgiving mood and again steam-rolled their opponents on the way to the final with another 5-0 win.

The final brought Cowbridge head to head with St Richard Gwyn who also comfortably won their group, albeit a slightly easier task.

The gulf in class was obvious from the outset with Sam Stewart and Matthew Reynolds securing victory in a convincing manner.

Finn and Josh followed this up with another win in the doubles and with a 3-0 lead the squad eased to the title, winning the last two doubles matches.

The team now advance to the south east competition at Cogan Leisure Centre in Penarth, hoping to emulate last year's championship winning performance. On this performance their chances of doing that look good.

FOOTBALL
The Year 7 football team played Llanishen High School on Thursday, December 5, in the semi-final of the Cardiff and Vale regional qualifier for the Welsh Cup.

Victory and a place in the final would assure them of qualification.

The conditions for the game were not ideal, with the strong winds making every facet of the game difficult.

With Cowbridge's back to the wind in the first half, they were the stronger; with Llanishen's back to the wind in the second half, they were the stronger. Both teams struggled to get the ball under control, and really threaten the goalkeepers.

With the scores level five minutes before time, the game had 'penalties' written all over it. That was until Cowbridge scrambled the ball clear to Edward Thomas, who sprinted up the wing with his lightning pace.

His cross was an excellent one, but was partially dealt with by a Llanishen defender. The ball then dropped to Bryn Lloyd, who fired a shot towards the Llanishen goal, only for the ball to again be blocked by a defender.

In pinball fashion, the ball then rebounded off the defender, and curved around the outside of the goalkeeper and into the back of the net. A lucky goal, but at this stage of the game, we would take it.

Two minutes were left on the clock, and Cowbridge held strong, with Jake Thomas controlling the centre of the park, and Matthew Dewhurst marshalling his defensive line extremely effectively.

Well done Year 7. In conditions like that, it is never easy to play the standard of football we are used to playing, but you adapted your game, never gave up, and ultimately came away with the win. Well done again, and now the Welsh Cup is calling!

Player of the match: Jake Thomas and Matthew Dewhurst.

ROWING
Tom Jose and Selina Radcliffe (both year 9) represented Cowbridge

Comprehensive at the Welsh Schools Indoor Rowing Championships on December 6, held at Sophia Gardens in Cardiff.

There were hundreds of competitors from all over Wales along with a few English schools teams as well. Both Tom and Selina came fourth in their age groups, beating off stiff competition from many more experienced rowers.

They both then took part in the British Indoor Rowing Championships the following day representing their rowing club (CVSRA - Cardiff and Vale Schools Rowing Academy).

It was another day of stiff competition but Tom won silver and Selina came eighth. It was the first time they had competed in the indoor championships and so were very pleased with their results.

NETBALL
Year 8 and 9 played St

Richard Gwyn.

Despite being a very windy and cold afternoon, all girls played exceptionally well. The year 9s won 11-1, and the year 8s won 4-1.

Player of the match: year 9 - Annabelle Hegarty, year 8 - Mali Howell.

HOCKEY

The under-16 hockey team played against Brynteg.

Cowbridge won 3-0 with goals being scored by Sian Smith, Jemma Viney and Rosa Hartmann. Player of the match was Genevieve Kirk.

Badminton's talent on show

THE annual 5x60 badminton tournament was once again held at Cogan Leisure Centre in Penarth.

Fierce rivalries were destined to be resumed during this year's competition with Stanwell School in particular renowned for their aptitude with a racket.

Interesting to see was the depth of talent being turned out by the Vale schools, with many players performing to a very high standard and this made for very competitive tournaments at both age groups.

In the 5 x 60 events, each team of four players played two singles matches and three doubles matches, in a best of five contests.

In a pulsating and exhilarating competition the runners up from the year 7 and 8 girls' competition were St Richard Gwyn and the winning team were from Cowbridge.

In the year 7 and 8 boys' competition, the team from Stanwell took the runner up position with Cowbridge comfortably taking the top prize.

In the year 9 and 10 girls competition the runners up were Cowbridge with Stanwell deservedly taking first place.

The boy's competition was very hard fought, but again Cowbridge took first place with a very spirited St Richard Gwyn side in second.

The winners of each competition will now go through to play in the regional event where they will face stiff competition from teams from Methyr, Cardiff and RCT.

A special mention should be made for the 10 volunteers from Cardiff and Vale College who umpired the competition and ensured it ran smoothly from the outset.

Season ends at Kart club

LLANDOW Kart Club brought the curtain down on its 2013 season with the traditional Celtic Challenge finale on the opening weekend of December.

Run to the 'alternate' format of timed qualifying, heat, pre-final and final, the event is designed to bring a fun end to a hard year of racing, while providing an opportunity for the winners to leave with the recognised 'CC' plate, which is retained for the following year.

Two hardy Bambinos came out to play at the event, with Ella Stevens and Nathan Browning both achieving another gold award for their efforts on a cold and damp track.

Despite it being the 'end of term', the Cadet field still produced the biggest turn-out, with 20 karts taking to the track across three classes. New club champion Ethan Ling headed up the Honda contingent, but was denied another title as Stuart Ferguson emerged as the one to beat, topping all four sessions to take a clean sweep.

Ling was second fastest in qualifying, but had to settle for third place in each of the three races, as Oscar Ferguson took second spot in both the heat and pre-qualifying, and Joshua Martin did likewise in the final, after Ferguson ran into misfortune.

Without new champion Tom Rawlings, who took the opportunity to step up to another class in preparation for 2014, the Comer class was won by Connor Kearney, who came good in the races after lagging a little behind his rivals in the timed session.

Max Fenlon had been quickest in qualifying, but did not make the top three overall, as Kieran Clarke and Thomas Nippers followed Kearney home.

The IAME class featured just two runners, with Shay Keough getting the better of Ethan Rees.

and Kristian Prosser wasted little time in taking control, topping each of the day's four sessions, ahead of Tom Ford and Patrick Hill.

As he had in the final round of the summer championship, Ford doubled up with appearances in Junior Rotax, where he again locked horns with former Honda rival Thomas Croydon.

The pair had to settle for battling over third and fourth places, however, as the more experienced Rob Ellis and Ceran Sokhi - stepping up from Minimax - set the pace. Ellis, as befits the role of club champion, came out on top each time, winning each race with an increased margin.

With Sokhi stepping up and Jodie Handford missing, Joe Pritchard was the lone Minimax entrant, but raced hard at the back of the Junior Rotax grid.

The eight-man Junior TKM field was led throughout by Ryan Edwards, despite the best efforts of old rivals Scott Morris and Matthew Ayres, who filled the podium positions in each session. Class debutant Rawlings made an immediate impact, qualifying fifth fastest and racing hard to eventually claim fourth in the main event, beating 2013 Welsh and club champion Yousuf Ashraf in the process.

After a tough year, where a dearth of entries saw the class cancelled on more than a couple of occasions, Senior Honda enjoyed a return to double figures for the season finale, with no fewer than 12 karts on track.

The numbers were swelled by the arrival of Stevens and Nardone from the junior ranks, as well as the return of veterans Chris Lipscomb, Nick Turley and Nicholas Rees and a seasonal debut for Roberto Nardone.

Stevens dared to beat Lipscomb and challenge senior champion Paul Saunders in qualifying, and then proved that his form was for real by winning the pre-final, but had to give best to heat winner Turley when it mattered most. Despite that, the youngster still left with some silverware, while Monty Gorringer beat Saunders to the final step of the podium.

The Honda Heavyweight class returned courtesy of Hugh Jones, but there was to be no repeat of his October heroics - where he won outright - as he finished seventh overall.

Senior Rotax remained in double figures after another strong season, and Daryl Henderson picked up from where he had left off in November's championship finale, winning all three races after topping qualifying.

James Johnson proved to be the biggest thorn in Henderson's side, taking second spot in each session, and, when Steven Handford failed to start the pre-final, it opened the door for Zach Jones to establish himself as number three for the rest of the day.

The young coaches with Rhys Williams.

YOUNG COACHES ARE LEARNING THE ROPES

THE Vale Council has launched an Olympic legacy programme, entitled Coaches of the Future, to help inspire a generation and give young people the opportunity to develop an involvement in sports leadership and coaching.

The scheme was launched at the Civic Offices in Barry with 19 individuals attending (age 16-18) from around the Vale.

The guest speaker was Great Britain and Wales athlete Rhys Williams, who gave an insight into how invaluable coaches were in his success on the athletics track.

The coaches had already taken part in an intensive week of training during October half term. They completed their Level 2 in community sports leadership, first aid, netball leaders, badminton leaders and Dragon multi-skills training course.

All 19 of the COTF will now be volunteering in their secondary school, local primary school or community sports club.

They will have further training in the near future and will complete their coach education Level 1 in their chosen sports between now and April 2014.

Coun Gwyn John, cabinet member for leisure, parks, culture and sports development said: "The scheme provides an excellent opportunity for young people to get on the coaching ladder when they are young and to develop their knowledge of their sport to pass on to players and volunteers in the game."

"I have been a football coach for 40 years and I have enjoyed every moment of the experience of coaching and seeing the development and improvement of those I have worked with. I would encourage all young people to take the opportunities offered them and sign up today."

Peugeot's 2008 is an urban crossover

by TIM SAUNDERS

PEUGEOT calls its 2008 an urban crossover; a five-door estate that sits high off the road like a 4x4, but without the uneconomical permanent all-wheel-drive.

However, it's fitted with a grip control that features modes for mud, sand, snow and normal everyday driving, making it more agile than a standard car (watch the video at testdrives.biz).

This function provides much-needed traction to the front wheels when required.

It can also be cancelled at speeds of up to 30mph, giving the driver ultimate control.

I'm testing a 1.6 e-HDi Allure model, which is basically the mid-range offering. Standard features include 16" alloy wheels, power folding chrome door mirrors, rear parking aid, dark tinted rear windows, stainless steel front and rear scuff plates, cruise control, speed limiter, all-around electric windows and air conditioning.

Parkers, the used car experts say: "Skid plates front and rear supplement more aggressively-styled alloy wheels, either in 16 or 17-inch sizes, sitting beneath squared-off wheel arches."

"A kink in the roof above the rear door evokes memories of an early Land Rover Discovery, though it embellishes the space with chrome rather than glass. It's a material used throughout the car's exterior."

"That familiar, and slightly fussy, Peugeot family face is adorned with a bold grille outlined in the shiny metal, as are the roof rails, door bottoms and wing mirrors."

It makes for a rather glitzy ambience to what could otherwise be considered a slightly derivative design statement."

Otherwise everything else would have to go inside.

With comfortable leather trimmed seats and smatterings of metal trim throughout, the 2008 Allure feels well put together, if a little minimal in its interior design.

Its raised height gives an added sense of security, even if the diesel unit is at times sluggish, especially when pulling away.

In the depths of the countryside, grip control comes into its own where during heavy downpours, thick mud becomes an increasing problem.

A turn of the dial in the centre console and the driver can rest assured that traction is optimised in conditions of poor grip, giving increased control.

When an oncoming tractor forces a sudden stop and a hasty detour into an unwelcome unmade lay-by, the Peugeot makes no complaints.

KENZIE IS AIMING FOR THE TOP OF INLINE HOCKEY!

SHEER hard work, dedication and natural ability in sport certainly paid off for 11 year old local youngster, Mackenzie Whilding; known as Kenzie to her friends.

Kenzie is a junior member of St Athan Golf Club but the sport she enjoys and excels at the most is inline hockey, a game she only decided to pursue in January 2013.

Kenzie plays for Cardiff Capitals and in the space of a year has already earned nationally recognised awards by the British Inline Puck Hockey Association (BIPHA).

These include the under-10s south Wales top goaltender, the national top goaltender, the national dream team goaltender and south Wales' top goaltender runner up in the under-12s team even though she was still only 10 at the time.

Kenzie has now achieved her ultimate dream; the only Welsh player selected to represent TEAM GB in the under-12s division for inline hockey being held in Los Angeles in June 2014.

In preparation for the tour, training schedules are to be held every couple of weeks in Rotherham, which means Kenzie will need to show exceptional commitment over the coming months and will be relying heavily on her parents, Sam and Keiran, to assist her with their time and the transportation to the organising training sessions.

Unfortunately the cost of the Los Angeles trip and the expense of additional equipment, etc, must all be self-funded therefore Kenzie would be delighted to hear from any company that would be able to assist with sponsorship or indeed any individuals who feel they would like to make a donation, however small.

Kenzie or her parents can be contacted on 01446 751105 and will happily answer any questions or provide further information as requested, alternatively they may be contacted by post at 3 Drake Close, St Athan, Vale of Glamorgan, CF62 4JF.

YOUNG GARETH 'CALLS THE HORSES'

GARETH TOPHAM (24) is the youngest and newest racecourse commentator in the country.

Gareth from the Fairwater area of Cardiff was born in St David's Hospital, Canton and was a pupil of Cantorian High School, before moving to Leeds to study sports journalism at university.

He said: "Sports journalism was the closest

ON AND OFF THE TURF with BRIAN LEE

course I could get so that I could become involved in horse-racing broadcasting."

Commentating is something Gareth wanted to do from the age of ten. He was attending primary school at Pentreban when he won a competition to appear on the children's channel Nickelodeon as a budding commentator. This involved him going to Taunton Races one afternoon and seeing what the job actually entailed.

An accomplished pianist, Gareth learned his trade commentating at point-to-points, harness race meetings and even at greyhound tracks. He also provided voiceovers for betting shops. And now he can be heard on racing channels such as Channel 4, Racing UK and ATR.

He told me: "It all really started when I used to watch racing on a Saturday afternoon in front of the television set with mum and dad. I enjoyed hearing the commentator say something and then hear how the crowd would react to what he said. I loved it and thought maybe one day I could do that. The rest as they say is history."

Gareth commentated at Chester earlier this year to a crowd of 24,000; when he said: "They're off" for the first race the roar from the stands was electrifying.

He said: "It was a hugely exciting day with many close finishes and my pulse was certainly racing."

He thanks fellow commentators Simon Holt, Darren Owen and Lee McKenzie for helping in his training, along with several other commentators.

Gareth is one of 16 commentators who travel the country 'calling the horses', as they say, at meetings big and small over the jumps or on the flat.

He drives hundreds of miles to some race meetings and he is such a gent that he astonishes me when he says his pet hate is cyclists, and admits to being "the world's most impatient and angry driver."

Having assisted Gareth at point-to-point meetings by giving him background information on some of the horses and riders, when standing alongside him from his commentary position, I know first hand how good he is at his job.

They say there is no such thing as a certainty in racing but as far as I am concerned, it is a dead cert that we will be hearing a lot more about this presentable young man in the future.

Hockey club play their annual 'Turkeys' game

PENARTH Hockey Club brought the curtain down on the first half of its 2013-14 season with the traditional 'turkeys' game between its senior and junior members at Barry Sports Centre.

Two sides, made up of players either side of the 30-year mark, were press-ganged into one further appearance after a hard-fought autumn league campaign, bribed by the promise of a liquid warm-up rather than the usual flexing and stretching.

With some old faces making a welcome return for the weekend, the line-ups – under the command of Jones and Grant respectively – featured a blend of players from the 1st, 2nd and veteran XIs, with Phil Lane bravely volunteering to umpire solo.

As has become the norm with turkeys games, players were given the opportunity to try out positions unfamiliar to them on a regular Saturday, and 25 minutes of goalless action highlighted just how out of their depth some were.

Although the seniors enjoyed their moments in front of goal, returnee keeper Ben Jewess was rarely called on to make a save while, at the other end, 1st XI shotstopper Mark Harris single-handedly kept his regular teammates at bay.

The deadlock was finally broken in scrappy fashion as 2nd XI keeper Calum Grant led from the front, bundling the ball across the line after another rearguard action from Harris ultimately came up short in the face of greater opposition forces.

The sides turned around just a goal apart, but the juniors emerged from the break determined to prove their superiority.

It didn't take long for the lead to double, as Sam Wooding – having not featured in the opening half – was left uncaged in the seniors' 25, and comfortably beat Harris in a one-on-one contest.

The seniors refused to buckle, and with Craig Llewellyn – who had clearly left his 'shooting boots' at home – drifting back to a more familiar sweeping role, the side enjoyed more opportunities in front of goal.

However, the older side could not find a way past Jewess, and fell further behind with a quarter of the game remaining as Chris Baker fired home from the right-side, Harris only aware of the jet-stream passing his facemask before the sound of ball on post signalled the third goal of the game.

It was shortly after this apparently decisive moment, and with time ticking down, that Lane invoked the 'next goal the winner' rule, giving the seniors added incentive to press forward.

Having spurned one chance to wrap the game up, when Jones missed from the penalty spot, age finally told over beauty when a quick ball from the back was worked into the juniors' 'D' and eventually forced home by Freddie Thomas to steal a famous victory.

Despite the obvious disappointment of seeing their hard work undone in such devastating fashion, the juniors sportingly provided the post-match refreshments, with copious – and welcome – lashings of homemade chilli on tap to accompany the traditional liquid refreshment at Penarth Athletic Club.

TEAMS:

Players young and old have a chance to lick their wounds for a few weeks before the veterans get things under way again with a mid-January fixture against Whitechurch.

League action resumes a week later, with the 1st XI hosting Wotton-under-Edge and the 2nd XI travelling west to take on bottom side Trinity St Davids.

Penarth Hockey Club always welcomes new, old and returning players, umpires, supporters, friends and helpers regardless of age and ability.

Training takes place on the artificial turf at Barry Sport Centre every Wednesday, with the juniors in action between 6-7pm and seniors between 7-8pm.

Last gasp Bridgend Athletic earn a hard fought victory

BRIDGEND ATHLETIC left it until the final minute to record a seasonal double over Blackwood, with a last gasp try from replacement hooker Simon Mustoe converted from just inside the touchline by outside half Steven Lewis for a 16-15 victory.

The margin in the first game of the season at Newbridge Fields was only two points with Lewis again securing a last minute victory that time with a penalty for a 32-30 victory. Hence, a three point margin over the two games and two last minute kicks has given the Athletic eight points and Blackwood only two losing bonus points from their fixtures, and has left the Athletic on 25 points in ninth place and Blackwood in 12th place with 18 points.

The game was played on a real glue pot of a pitch giving the bulky Blackwood forwards a distinct advantage in set plays. However, the lighter Athletic eight showed dogged determination throughout and territorially enjoyed 60 per cent of the game.

The Athletic opened the scoring with a 10th minute penalty from outside half Steven Lewis and held their advantage until 10 minutes before halftime. Two successive penalties saw Blackwood gain a line out 15 metres from the Athletic try line.

A catch and drive saw the home side make use of their weight advantage to create a rolling maul and force flanker Dean Gibb over the try line. Paulo Emmanuelli converted.

This gave Blackwood fresh momentum and another excursion into the Athletic 22 saw the Athletic concede a penalty which Emanuelli goalied to put Blackwood 10-3 ahead at the interval.

The lighter Athletic pack were trying to move the bulkier home 8 around the park taking quick penalties - especially from debutant scrum half Aled Lewis who was showing great confidence to keep the ball alive.

Captain Sean Williams was leading by example with fellow back row forward Tom Penry-Ellis also putting in a sterling performance.

Locks Griff Davies and Darren Deguera also carried well and prop Wayne Fooks dug in well in the scrums against much heavier opposition.

Full back Josh White and wing Dan Howells were both assured under the frequent up and unders employed by the home side.

The Athletic pressure paid off with the home side conceding two penalties which Lewis converted to bring the score back to 10-9.

A tapped penalty by scrum half Aled Lewis on halfway created an opening for wing Michael Powell to run 30 metres into the Blackwood 22. His inside pass saw Rhys Ward Jones held a metre short of the try line.

With 12 minutes to go the Athletic were reduced to 13 players when first wing Dan Howells and then centre Dan Apsee were yellow carded in the space of a minute for technical offences. Blackwood, with numerical advantage, opted for a scrum inside the Athletic 22 instead of trying to kick for goal.

the scrum and No 8 David Ford went over wide out. This gave the home side a seemingly unassailable 15-9 lead.

However Williams inspired his team to one final effort and they were awarded a penalty inside the Blackwood 22 which Lewis kicked to touch for a five metre line out.

This pattern was repeated as Blackwood infringed three times as the Athletic drove from the line out. Finally the referee awarded a yellow card against Blackwood and with the final play of the game Howells returned to give the sides 14 men a piece.

Williams caught the ball thrown in by Simon Mustoe and 12 of the Athletic players entered the driving maul to push Mustoe over wide out.

Everything hinged on the Steven Lewis conversion. The outside half had had a mixed day with the boot and with the whole 14 of Blackwood charging at his kick, showed great composure to send the ball soaring between the uprights to win the game.

This Saturday Bridgend Athletic visit the Arms Park to take on Cardiff in a friendly arranged as both sides have byes in the first round of the Swalec Cup, before returning to Championship action at home on January 11 against a rejuvenated Pontypool.

Tight game ends in loss for Pencoeed

PENCOED'S 1st XV lost 8-7 away to Glyncoerrwg.

We started very positively and were playing well, scoring the first try wide on the left 10 minutes in after a good forwards drive, Ieuan Watkins making the touchdown.

Mark Davies added the conversion, with a brilliant kick considering the very strong wind blowing across the pitch.

Glyncoerrwg then scored their own forward dominated try after 30 minutes with Number 8 Anthony Davies crossing for an unconverted try.

In the second half the Glyncoerrwg forwards dominated, with a well organised driving maul which saw most of the second half in Pencoeed territory.

Kicking was a lottery and Mark Davies, along with the Glyncoerrwg full-back, missed a lot of penalties which on other days would have been converted.

In the end some loose kicking gave away hard earned possession. The game became forwards dominated and Glyncoerrwg edged the battle.

A penalty kicked by Glyncoerrwg was the only other successful kick of the game.

Mark Davies looked to have secured the lead, but his kick struck the post.

At the end a brawl ended with Andrew Shillam and an opposition forward receiving yellow cards.

Glyncoerrwg finished the game in our 22 which typified the game. Despite the defeat there were good shifts put in, and young substitutes did themselves proud.

The 2nd XV lost to a very good Bridgend Athletic squad, the final score 17-46, with Pencoeed scoring three tries.

Again there were some good performances from younger players.

Strong showing from the Bridgend Athletic youth

BRIDGEND ATHLETIC youth welcomed Pencoeed youth to Newbridge Fields for this much awaited local derby clash in the Osprey's A league.

With Pencoeed third in the league and the Ath second this was always going to be a close game and so it turned out with both teams looking to play an expansive game.

The Ath started at a good pace and with their pack securing good early possession they ran the ball at Pencoeed from the off.

Good solid Pencoeed defence however, together with some poor handling from the Athletic, prevented the Ath from making any real progress.

Indeed it was the visitors who took an early lead after the referee deemed them to have not released the ball and the successful kick put them 3-0 ahead after six minutes.

This remained the pattern of the game and in a carbon copy situation the Athletic infringed off side and the visitors found themselves 6-0 up after 10 minutes.

The game ebbed and flowed with both teams willing to run from deep but the Athletic's pack with Iestyn Merriman, Rory Thomas and Reuben Tooze looking superb began to make the difference and it was from a forward move that the ball went out to winger Josh Seldon who dived over from five metres out for the game's first try on 22 minutes. The conversion from Josh Carey went narrowly wide but the Ath were back in the game at 6-5.

Pencoeed were proving, as expected, to be stubborn opponents and a third penalty from their excellent goal kicker extended their lead to 9-5.

Further forward pressure from the home side was beginning to pay dividends and this allowed the Athletic to maintain good field position despite playing into the strong wind.

It was the forwards who were now taking the game to Pencoeed with the second row pair of Matthew Bennett and Lloyd Griffiths winning excellent line-out ball and the front row of Iestyn Merriman, Zach Evans and Lewis Kirby dominating the scrums.

This forward domination resulted in the second Athletic try after a strong rolling maul put hooker Merriman over out wide and with an excellent conversion into the wind from full back Ben Jones, the Athletic were in front for the first time at 12-9 and this remained the halftime score.

With the strong wind at their backs in the second period it was expected that the Athletic would play a territorial game but Pencoeed were having none of it and from the restart they ran the ball at the Athletic from everywhere.

Their forwards were also beginning to compete in the set pieces and provide their sharp backs with some much needed possession.

With the weather conditions deteriorating credit had to go to Pencoeed for playing a handling game and it was only the excellent Bridgend defence, with Tom Jenkins and Craig Lewis in the centre and Ashton Chalmers and Josh Seldon out wide, that kept them out on a number of occasions.

With time running out and the weather and light getting progressively worse, it was another forward try that would seal the game and when back row forward Rory Thomas went over under the posts with six minutes remaining, another Ben Jones conversion took the score to 19-9, making sure Athletic would not be caught.

In almost darkness the referee blew the final whistle on what was an excellent game given the conditions.

Credit must go to both sides for putting on an excellent game of rugby played in a great spirit.

Pencoeed will count themselves unlucky not to have got closer to the Athletic and will be looking forward to the return match towards the end of the season.

Maesteg rugby league boys make a promising start

IN just their second match as the Maesteg School-based academy, the South Wales under-18 rugby league side missed out on a second win, losing to a mere conversion as they went down 12-10 to South Gloucestershire and Stroud College.

South Wales took the lead after seven minutes when Harry Boots broke through the strong opposition defence; Ben Jones missed the kick.

The visitors struck back just after the 20 minute mark when James Mason dived under the sticks and converted.

Then, five minutes later, the same player went over for another, and converted again to put them 12-4 up at the break in a game that was played in 30-minute halves.

The Welsh didn't take long to get on the board in the second half as Dan Maiden scored a try in the corner in less than two minutes. Ben Jones converted well to put them just two points behind.

By now, heavy rain had taken its toll and while some parts of the pitch were a little muddy before the game, by the second half they had turned into a quagmire making skilful play hard to come by and the visitors held out for their close victory.

This Maesteg School based outfit will have more college fixtures early this year. Then in March, a wider group of players will join the Maesteg boys to form a Scorpions under-19s squad to play in a new southern competition, hopefully as double headers with the senior Championship One games.
